NEGUS FLEES FROM CAPITAL WITH EMPRESS AND CROWN PRINCE

ITALIANS ADVANCE ON ADDIS ABABA SEAT OF GOVERNMENT TO BE TRANSFERRED FURTHER RESISTANCE POSSIBLE

"SUNDAY HERALD" SPECIAL

Asmara, Yesterday.

The advance guard of Marshal Badoglio's army, a column of Askaris, have reached a point 50 miles north of Addis Ababa, according to the latest reports reaching here yesterday morning.

A message from Addis Ababa states that a hastily-assembled army of volunteers left the capital on Friday under the command of Ras Getachew in order to check the Italian advance, but little hope is held out there that the occupation of the city by the enemy can be delayed for any length of time. Consequently it has been decided to transfer the seat of Government to a town about 150 miles west of Addis Ababa, which is stated to be in a densely wooded and mountainous region.

Numerous vehicles loaded with the Government's archives and other valuables have left the capital within the past 48 hours for the Emperor's new headquarters, from where the Negus will attempt to organise further resistance.

The former delegate to the League of Nations, M. Teclé Hawariate, has been entrusted with the task of maintaining order in the city until the entry of the Italian troops. He has 1,000 policemen at his disposal and will withdraw with them at the last minute to the new seat of Government. —Trans-Ocean Service.

The tense situation continues throughout the country, and several minor incidents were reported from various places on the occasion of the Moslem holiday yesterday. A serious clash between the police and Arab demonstrators occurred at Haifa, one person being killed and eight injured. —Trans-Ocean Service.

DR. SCHACHT CASTIGATED

"Building Pyramids"
In Germany

TO TRAIN UNITED NATIONAL MIND

Berlin, Yesterday.

A cryptic passage in a speech by Herr Hitler yesterday afternoon is now interpreted as a castigation of Dr. Schacht, Minister of Economics.

The latter is believed to have inspired an article in the Volkswirtschaft last week protesting against the excessive expenditure on unproductive work as "building pyramids."

Herr Hitler said that the ancients who set men to build the pyramids knew why they did so. Their gigantic feats of united endeavour established a work of culture lasting thousands of years.

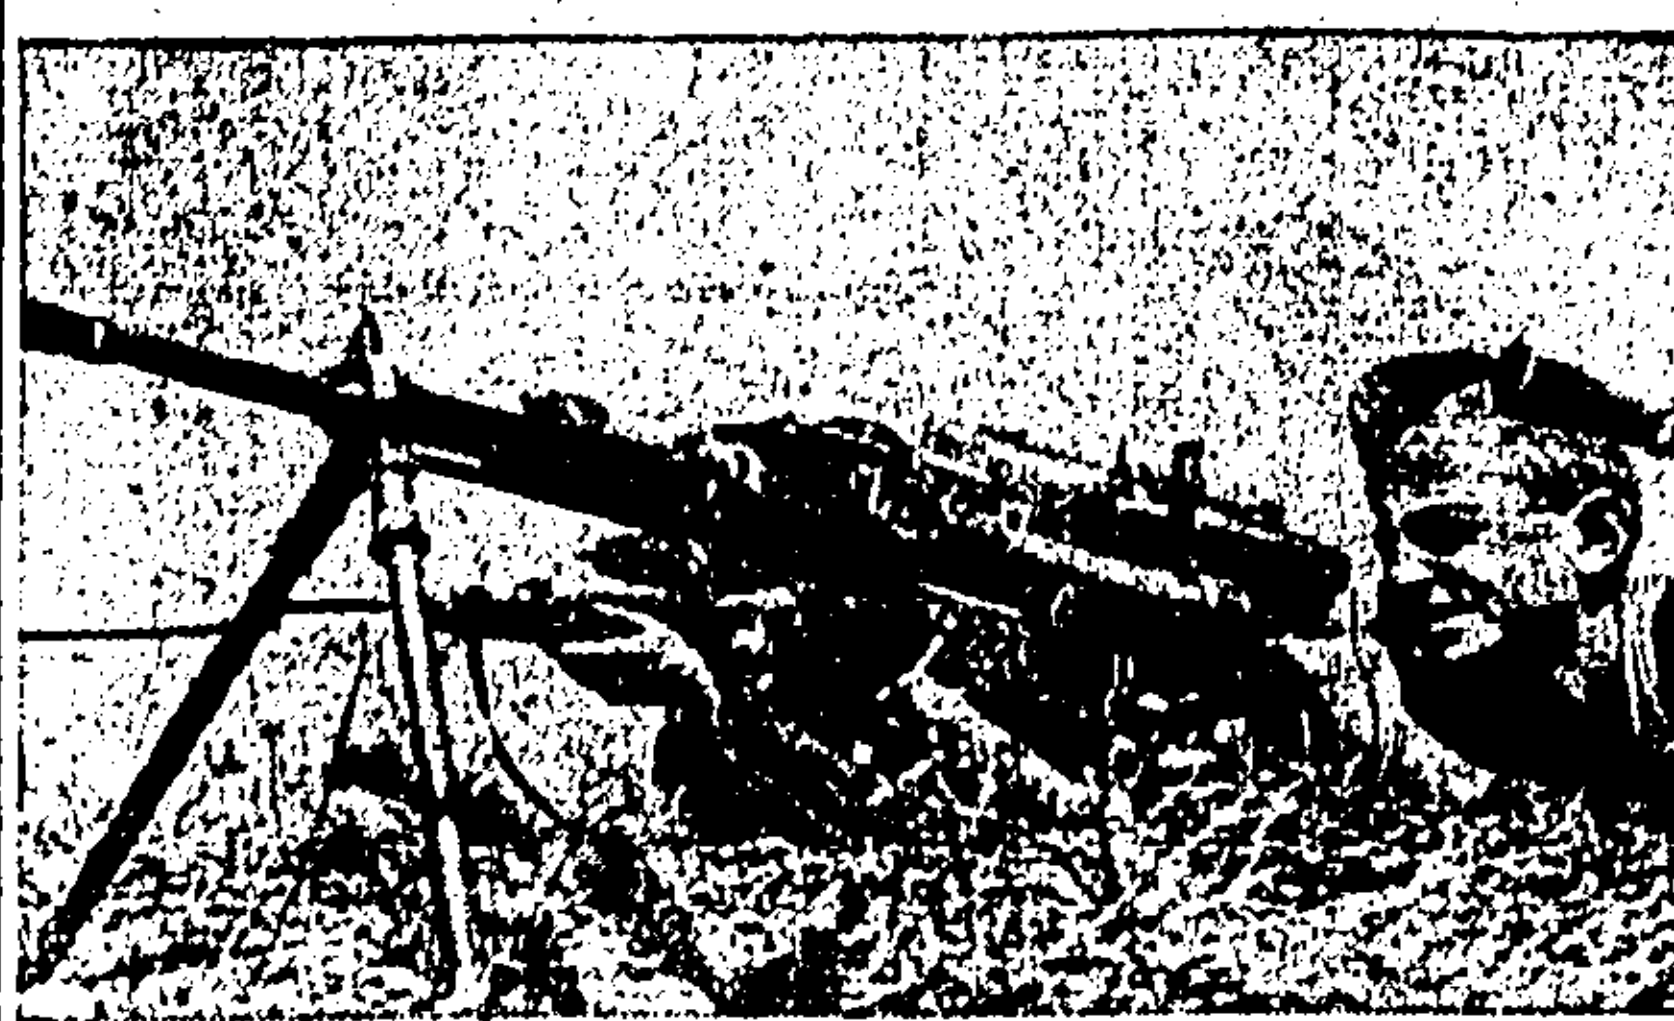

"If we to-day set gigantic tasks, we know why. Only such a task can train a united national mind." —Reuter.

PROTEST AGAINST HEAD TAX LEADS TO SERIOUS ENCOUNTER

[From Our Own Correspondent]

Canton, Yesterday.

Seven Chinese were killed and about ten were injured by French colonial troops in Kwangchowwan on April 23, when they approached the administrative building to petition for the cancellation of the head tax, according to a report circulated last night by a vernacular news agency.

The head tax was recently proclaimed in Kwangchowwan and is levied in similar manner as in Indo-China. Chinese residents in that port were aroused by this new levy, and took the attitude that as Kwangchowwan is but a leased territory the French authorities should not collect such a tax.

RIVER STEAMER PIRATED

Ship Ransacked And $9,275 Taken

NO CASUALTIES REPORTED

[From Our Own Correspondent]

Canton, Yesterday.

The Hong Kong-Wuchow river steamer Wo Ping Yat was pirated on the West River at Ta Wor Chat Lin Po, about 90 miles West of Canton, on May 1, while on her voyage from Wuchow to Hong Kong. The pirates took away cash and valuables to the value of $9,275. No hostages were taken. After ransacking the ship, the pirates made off in four boats which came alongside. Fourteen pirates boarded the ship at Tak Ling, and 11 more came on board at Kiang How. The pirates were about to seize the ship, when another river steamer passed the Wo Ping Yat. After the passing vessel had passed the pirates, with drawn revolvers, went to the bridge and ordered the No one was hurt, and the cargo pirates were about to seize the sacking took two hours, after which the 25 pirates left in four boats in the direction of Tai Wor. One passenger hid $500 in Hong Kong notes in the seat of his trousers. The pirates searched him but failed to locate the money.

WEATHER REPORT

The anti-cyclone continues moving eastward and now covers the Pacific to the south-east of Japan. Pressure is relatively low over West China and Indo-China. East to south-east winds, moderate; cloudy warmer, some coastal fog, was the forecast for to-day, as issued by the Royal Observatory last evening.

MISGIVINGS VOICED IN LONDON

END OF ORGANISED RESISTANCE?

ADDIS ABABA POSITION UNCERTAIN

London, Yesterday.

The British Minister at Addis Ababa, Sir Sidney Barton, has reported to London that the Emperor has left Addis Ababa for Djibouti, accompanied by the Empress and the Crown Prince.

Later: The Emperor had an interview with the British Minister before leaving Addis Ababa, and Mr. Eden specially visited the Foreign Office to consider the situation. It is also reported in London that shooting and looting is proceeding in Addis Ababa, but there have been no casualties among British nationals.

Later: It is understood that the Emperor did not reveal his ultimate destination before leaving the capital.

It is stated that every precaution has been taken for the protection of the British and other foreign residents of Addis Ababa, where it is believed that there are still about 1,000 British subjects, mainly British Indians and Somalis. Probably not more than 30 white British subjects remain in Addis Ababa.

It is understood that the British nationals have already been taken under protection in the Legation compound.

Later: It is at present uncertain how the Emperor's departure will affect the position at Addis Ababa. The request might be made by the Italian Legation, including the British, to leave, or alternatively the British might themselves decide to leave. It is understood that Sir Sidney Barton has not yet made any plans to leave the capital.

The Ethiopian Legation in London state that they have not received any message concerning the Emperor's departure. The news of the Emperor's flight is regarded gravely in British circles in London. It is considered to end the organised resistance. It is understood that it was not on Sir Sidney Barton's advice that the Emperor left the city. —Reuter.

WORLD TRADE PROBLEMS

Economic Nationalism Attacked

ONLY SANE PRACTICAL COURSE RECOMMENDED

Washington, Yesterday.

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, attacked economic nationalism when he received representatives of the foreign press to-day. He declared that the world was in a network of discriminations which involved retaliations, embargoes, quotas and other restrictions on commerce.

Questioned regarding the prospects of a reciprocal Japan-American trade agreement, he said that the United States and Japan were equally interested in the rehabilitation of trade and the world's general economic situation.

"We are hoping," he said, "that Britain, Japan, France and Germany, all important countries, will soon see their way clear to proceed simultaneously, but in their own manner, to support the fundamentals of economic liberalism. This is the only sane practical course between extreme economic nationalism and extreme internationalism." —Reuter.

The constitutional dispute over the proposed Council of Regency in Egypt has led the Nationalist leader Nahas Pasha, above, to threaten to summon the 1930 Parliament himself, in defiance of the present Government.

EFFECTS OF SANCTIONS

FIGURES ISSUED IN GENEVA

LARGE DROPS IN EXPORTS

Geneva, Yesterday.

The effects of sanctions on Italian foreign trade are shown in a statement issued by the Secretary-General of the League.

Comparing February 1935 with February 1936, trade with 43 countries showed that exports dropped from $16,000,000 gold to $7,000,000, while imports into Italy dropped from $11,000,000 to $10,000,000. The only cases of an increase in both imports and exports were in the trade with Austria and Hungary.

The United States trade with Italy is not officially stated, but there is understood to be a slight gain. —Reuter's Bulletin Service.

SHORT STORY

SOUVENIR

(By EDWIN RUTT)

JOE GILLIS and Austin Fryer, fishermen, rowed in across the little bay just as darkness fell.

An hour later a motor launch rounded the point into the bay.
The man behind the wheel stopped the engine and allowed the boat to drift.

"Well, Corwin," he said, "you wanted to talk privately. Here's your chance! This is a very lonely bay."

"Voices carry across water," objected the other.

Daniel Allison scoffed.
"To whom? There's probably nobody within a mile of us. Anyway, you needn't shout. Go on, man!"

Corwin laughed nervously.
"I—I don't quite know how to begin. Of course, you're manager of the bank, Mr. Allison, and I'm only a chartered accountant. But," bravado seemed to seep into his voice, "that's just why I know you're short in your accounts."

Allison's eyes were pin-points of dull light. His voice came cold, hard.

"Well?"
Corwin's laugh rose to a servile giggle.

"Well, there you are, Mr. Allison. But you needn't worry—exactly. You see, I'm the only person who knows it. And I'll treat you all right."

"For nothing, I suppose," sneer-ed Allison.

"Now, Mr. Allison," Corwin was ingratiating, "we're business men, you and I. Here's the position:
You've pinched the money and you can pinch another lot for all I care —so long as I get my share. That's fairly put, isn't it?"

"What made you so sure I—er—embezzled this money?" inquired Allison.

Corwin shrugged.
"It's a small bank, almost entirely under your control. Who else?"

There was a moment of silence.
The shadows seemed to thicken, laying a dark cloak over the bay.

"You're right!" said Allison at last. "I took it. I had to cover private losses."

"Of course, Mr. Allison," said Corwin cheerfully, "I understand.
Many a man's done worse. Now then, let's get to business! Two thousand pounds will keep my mouth shut. I've finished the examination. I've passed the books—temporarily. My railway ticket is in my pocket and I'll leave to-night. In two weeks I get a holiday. That'll give you time to collect the cash and I'll come back here for it. And nobody'll be the wiser."

"Allison whistled softly.
"Two thousand! You don't want much, do you?"

Corwin jabbed his ribs with unwanted familiarity.
"And neither do you! Well, do you agree? Remember, Mr. Allison, I hold all the trumps."

"Yes," said Allison, "all the trumps." But in the darkness his lip curled.

From the moment that Corwin had suggested a private meeting Allison had known what it must presage. And it had been part of his hastily-arranged plan to pick up the accountant in a secluded street after dark. From there he had driven him out to his house, congratulating himself that this had happened on the night off of the couple who administered to his bachelordom. Yes, the sailing had been smooth. No one had seen them. Not a soul had called at, or phoned, his house. A simple matter to lure the fellow out for a motor-boat ride on the bay. And easy to drop two heavy iron dumb-bells and a monkey-wrench into the launch when Corwin was nosing round the boathouse. So far so good. And better—Corwin had passed the books, his work at the bank presumably finished. All the employees knew that. Yes, it was safe. Quite safe. Suddenly his fingers tightened around the wrench at his side.

Corwin was leaning forward when the blow fell. With a gasp he slumped against the gunwale and his face, the jaw sagging, twisted towards Allison. It was a stupid, unearthly grin, that face, the grin of Death loering in the eerie half-light.

Instinctively his hand wavered towards Allison's throat, clutched the air, then fell downward and fastened in the front of Allison's yachting-jacket. Allison struck again. A tearing sound lost itself in the thud of the blow.

Corwin pitched to the bottom of the boat.

Feverishly Allison rummaged in a locker for rope, found it. Then he bound the dumb-bells to Cor-win's body, one to the feet, one to the neck. The corpse twisted, slithered loosely as he jerked at the ropes. The lips were curled back.
The teeth chattered drunkenly as he began to lift the body. Cold sweat broke over Allison. God, the thing was grinning at him! The damned grisly thing seemed to mock him. With a shudder of disgust he heaved it up, tumbled it over the gunwale. It sank like a stone in the black water.

Back at his boat-house he noticed that a button was missing from his yachting-jacket. With trembling fingers he searched the launch. He couldn't find it. Then he remembered that dying hand, clutching.
He shook his fist in the direction of the bay.

"If you've got it, damn you," he muttered, "keep it! Take it with you to hell—as a souvenir from me."

In the house Allison poured out a stiff drink. His hand shook as he tilted the bottle. Then a great numbing weariness swept suddenly over him. He gulped the drink and went upstairs to bed, taking the whisky with him.

But he couldn't sleep. The darkness, crowding in at the window, seemed to choke, suffocate him.
The wind moaned in the trees like a soul lost in some great vacancy.
Once a sea-bird screeched. The sound was like an icicle plunged between his shoulders. He shivered.

CONCERT-DANCE

Russian Community's Entertainment

GOOD FARE PROMISED

In response to many requests and the need to enlarge the activity of its cultural works, the Committee of the Russian Orthodox Community has decided to produce another concert-dance, which will be held in the Hall of St.
Andrew's Church, Kowloon, next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

There will be a complete change of programme from that of the previous concert, and the talented assistance of many prominent local people will ensure that this entertainment will give great pleasure to the musical public and will be well supported.

Among the many artists taking part will be Madame Anne Balfour, accompanied by Mrs. Nura Kanis, who will also contribute piano solos. Professor Nicholas Tonoff will be heard in violin solos and Mrs. Tamara Karinski in Russian songs. Dances have been arranged by Mr. George Goncharoff and Captain M. M. Affanassieff and Miss Irene Nevolina will appear in a sketch entitled "Red Jacket." A "Merry Peasants" scene will also be given, including songs and dances.

The items of the concert will be interspersed with dances, continuing until 1 a.m. Light refreshments will be available. Tickets may be purchased at the Tkachenko Confectionary, No. 3 Hankow Road, or at the door. The orchestra will be under the leadership of Mr. Isidoro Monerato.

reached for the bottle, swallowed several drinks. Presently he slept, fitfully.

He dreamed—of brass buttons.
They were all round him, glittering, winking, shifting, in a confused phantasmagoria. Brass buttons on a coat. Brass buttons on blue cloth. At last he opened his eyes.
The sun streamed in at the window.
The hideous dream seemed to haunt him still.

He lifted one hand. But the other came with it. There was a quick steady glint. With a cry Allison jerked up in bed, twisting his arms furiously. Then his eyes opened wide and a dry hollow scream tore its way out of his throat for handcuffs gleamed at his wrists.

For a moment, Foley, the local detective sergeant did not speak.
But he opened his hand. On the broad palm lay a brass button.
With the other hand he pointed to Allison's yachting-jacket, cast carelessly over a chair.

"Wh-what . . ." stammered Allison hoarsely.

The other's eyes were blue steel.
"There's only three men living in this place that wear coats like that," he said evenly. "I've questioned the other two. Daniel Allison, I arrest you for the murder of William Corwin. When we found the body, this," he indicated the button, "was in his hands."

Allison's voice came like a whisper from a tomb.

"You—found—the—body?"
Foley's eyes narrowed. "I didn't.
But it was found. Early this morning, in a fishing net belonging to a couple of fellows named Gillis and Fryer."

(THE END)

STOMACH SUFFERER
SINCE CHILDHOOD.

To be perfectly fit and able to eat anything after over 20 years of acute stomach trouble is more than most people would dare hope for—yet this has actually happened to Mr. A. C.
D.

These are his own words:—
"I must tell you how thankful I am regarding Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. Since childhood I have constantly suffered from stomach pains, indigestion, heartburn, and was informed by doctors that it might be ulcers. I was told by my doctor to try Maclean Brand Stomach Powder, and before I had finished the first bottle I was much better! Now I can face a good meal with confidence—no more sickness, heartburn, etc. The secret of it is simply Maclean Brand Stomach Powder!"

And you can obtain just as great and speedy relief. But be sure to ask your chemist for the genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder and see the signature "ALEX. C. MACLEAN" on the bottle and carton before you buy.
It is not sold loose, but only in bottles or cartons. If you have any difficulty in obtaining it from your chemist or store, write to Local Sales Representatives: Banker & Co., Ltd.,

Feeling Tired?

You can feel fit
again—and so easily too!

Listlessness and fatigue, in nine cases out of ten, are caused by nervous trouble, and when you take Sanatogen you drink in pure strength.

Heat, worry or overwork — these are just some of the many reasons why you are suffering from over-strained nerves. Unless you find extra strength to withstand the strain, loss of youth and health is bound to be the result.

Sanatogen was made to strengthen the nerves, to revitalize tired, run-down people. To thousands, the use of Sanatogen has meant a new lease of life.

Here is the opinion of a lady, who suffered for years:—

"It is years, since I felt so well and happy. I was full of pain and depression through indigestion and nervousness, but now, through Sanatogen, the world and all that is in it, is brighter and more cheerful."

— writes Miss G. H.

Think of how much better life would be if you could once more enjoy that priceless feeling of youthful health, and if you were again full of energy and cheerfulness. And such health is really within easy reach. You need not go to a lot of trouble. Simply start taking Sanatogen three times a day and you will soon pick up.

You will notice how quickly Sanatogen satisfies the starved nervous system, how it conquers that run-down feeling. You will feel better and you will look better. You will feel a new woman, full of youthful vitality, and your friends will tell you "How well you look!"

A woman's greatest charm is her colour. Not 'make-up,' but the fresh, natural colour of glorious health. That is why so many attractive women entrust their beauty to Khasana Blush Cream. Try it yourself. You will be amazed at the difference it will make in your appearance. Smooth a little on to your cheeks, where the natural colour comes. Then watch this orange tinted cream change miraculously at the first touch to the colour which is your own, emphasizing it, delicately—naturally, and endowing you with all the bloom and loveliness of perfect health. Now outline your lips with Khasana Lipstick, giving them a lasting, soft freshness. Both are kiss- and water-proof, and one application a day is sufficient.

Predilection has it that Cord Dresses are going to sky-rocket in popularity for the coming Summer months. This style is a basic classic, typical of dresses from coast to coast.

Parachute skirts are new! Gored in line to the shape of an aviator's parachute they are Paris' newest idea.

Watch for a tremendous season in lace... all the way from cord laces for daytime to exquisite creations like the above for evening. Jackets are very important in lace evening fashions.

flowers appear on wool or crepe bodices.

Sequins To Tailleurs

The bodice of a simple black wool frock may be embroidered with flowers or leaves of jet. Lucien Lelong finishes all edges of a white wool tulle with narrow bands of black sequins. Matching sequins trim several of his dark wool suits.

Very Spring-like are the branches of apple-blossom, the branches in mat, the flowers in rosy crystal beads entwined about the skirt of a white satin evening-sheath. Lanvin, also in favour of this glamorous style, covers the corselet of a pearl-grey tulle evening frock with a trellis of golden sequins. It is made with a full filmy skirt. Tiny silver beads trace a delicate fern pattern over the ample sleeves of a sky-blue crepe tunic.

Beaded evening tunics form a shining link between the two silhouettes that are still running neck-and-neck for first place in the Summer mode. At the extremes are the slenderest straight line—which confers height and simplicity—and the voluminous effects that lend life and movement to the ensemble. They permit one to combine the

SUMMER HEALTH AND EXERCISE

A poor life this, if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare.

At this season of the year the beauties of nature tempt us to stand and stare and compel the admiration of anyone who has normal mental health. But those who are sick in mind are unable very often to see beauty.

Health in Summer is largely determined by our acceptance of the Aesculapian cult, which included also the interpretation of dreams and psychological practice. Cleansing of the body is accomplished by water, air, sunlight, and simple, nourishing foods, but ideal diet for health has yet to be discovered.

In Summer we can utilize sunlight. We can walk, lightly clad, through the country in holiday times and during the week-ends, walk briskly until we perspire, and rid ourselves of the toxins which have accumulated through the winter months. We can adapt ourselves to tepid baths and cold showers, open the windows wide day and night, and attend swimming pools in the neighbourhood in which we live.

Danger In Over-Exercise

Exercise is essential for health, but, like most good things in this life, it can be abused and overdone. I read in a medical journal recently that athletes were generally found to have a poor resistance to infections and infectious diseases.

I know that middle-aged and elderly people frequently over-exercise, even on the golf course, with the mistaken idea that the more the muscular exertion the better they will be. They disregard the warning of quickening pulse, breathlessness, pallor or florid colour on exertion. They deceive themselves when they are overtired into believing that it is "natural," when the truth is that they have lost the resilience of youth.

"I must have some exercise," they say, when the best thing for them is a nice sofa near an open window or a hammock in the garden and the company of an amusing book.

Health and common sense are closely related.

straight line with ampleur, in the manner most becoming to one's type of figure. One may choose the long, slim tunic with a tulle underskirt flaring below the knees, favoured in some Mainbocher models, or the tiny umbrella tunics, featured by Alix.

Personal And Domestic Problems Solved

Dear Helen—

All Enquiries will be Treated in Confidence

Dear Helen,
I have hairy forearms and legs, but I dare not use any powder or cream to remove the hair, lest it will grow darker and thicker in the future. Will you please tell me the way to get rid of them?

I have unsightly jaws—square and jutting out. What do you advise me to do in order to make them appear less noticeable?

Get the chemist to mix you a bleaching solution, containing hydrogen peroxide and apply this daily to the hairs on your arms and legs. This will make them quite fair and, therefore, hardly noticeable. In addition, I suggest you soap your legs and arms well and then rub with pumice stone. This breaks the hairs off shorter and discourages the growth. This also should be done every day.

To make your jawbones appear smaller, try putting a little rouge high up on your cheekbones, fading it away gradually towards the temples. It will give the effect of broadening the upper part of your face and consequently the jaws will look narrower.

TROUBLED—I do not think it is any use asking him to supper. If he really wanted to see your sister he would make some effort to do so. It would be much better to ask some other nice young man to supper, instead, and hope she will take an interest in someone else. I am sure she will if you give her a little time.

RUBY.—Rinse your faded pink underclothing in a solution of red ink and water mixed to the shade you require. This will bring it up like new, and do no harm to the silk.

FINN.—The breadcrumbs would be quite sufficient to kill your goldfish. Only give them the prepared food that is sold for the purpose (your "boy" will very likely know how to make it). They eat very little. The most important thing is to give them fresh water daily and have plenty of greenstuff in it. You must get this from a goldfish vendor. In winter never keep them in a room with a fire. Goldfish kept in a small bowl very much appreciate a swim in your bath from time to time! But remember, you should never handle them. Catch them in a saucer or a small shrimping net.

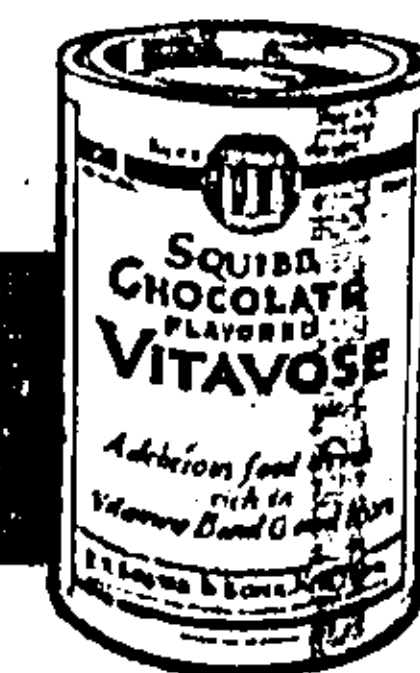

JANE ONE.—You could renovate your evening frock by cutting away the bodice, and turning the skirt part into a skirt proper. For very little expense you can get made a pretty, flowered satin jumper to tone with the dark green satin of the skirt; and there you have an almost new dress suitable for cocktail parties or informal dinners.

FUSILIERS BEAT CLUB IN SOCCER GAME FULL OF INCIDENT

ROYAL YACHT CLUB OFFICIAL END OF SEASON ACTIVITIES REVIEWED

Favoured with good weather and a strong breeze the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club held its close of the season sailing races yesterday, when four events were sailed.

The prizes won during the season were distributed by Mrs. Dixon, who deputised for Mrs. Sedgwick, who was unable to attend owing to indisposition.

Before asking Mrs. Dixon to distribute the prizes Mr. H. S. Rouse, Vice-Commodore of the Club, reviewed the activities of the Club during the season, and expressed the hope that the Club would soon be transferred to Kellett Island.

Mr. Rouse's Speech

Mr. H. S. Rouse said: "In the absence of our Commodore, Mr. A. L. Shields, I have to express our regret that, owing to indisposition, Mrs. Sedgwick is unable to be here this afternoon to present the season's trophies to the lucky winners. We all wish her a speedy recovery."

"We are met to-day to bring our sailing season of 1935-36 to its official close, but I think we may anticipate that our active sailing secretary, Major Dixon, will continue to organise races as long as members wish him to do so."

"This is the first season in which we have been totally removed from the water-front and I know that I voice the wish of all members when I say that we hope it will soon be possible to make some arrangement that will result in a bettering of the amenities of the club and its grounds. We look forward to the transference of the club to Kellett Island. This cannot come too soon."

Absence Of Winds

"The past season has been marked by an absence of true winds on Saturdays, and such conditions continued on many occasions to the Sunday. On many Mondays when our championship races for ladies were held, blustery conditions prevailed, but by good fortune the helmswomen suffered few serious mishaps, though more than one must have vent over the side. The cruisers had to have three shots at the island to port and we have left the 'Tai Yut' undecided even now. My friend, the Rear-Commodore, suggests that we go on with it every Saturday until we get a result—or they all get tired and give up—except himself! We shall see. We have sailed over 250 official races and for those 1,820 yachts crossed the starting line."

"We have had our usual merry contests between the Club and the Navy and also against the Army and from our civilian point of view, the results were everything to be desired. I would congratulate the Scandinavian members on winning the team race against Britain by a margin which was almost as big as possible."

"Mr. Cook is worthy of special mention for winning the Macao Race for the second year in succession. I understand that the Handicapping Committee now have the situation well in hand."

Rowing Activities

"Members of our rowing section have carried on under difficult conditions and gave a very good account of themselves against the Victoria Recreation Club in a regatta held on March 21, winning three races out of four and dead-heating in another."

"I would appeal to those rowing members who are beginning to find active participation a little too strenuous to continue their support to the section by turning up for coaching and supervising the work in the boats."

GOLF TOURNEY AT DEAL

Boy Champion In Final

Deal, Yesterday. Stowe eliminated Lister Hartley, conqueror of Leonard Crawley, in the Sixth Round of the English Close Amateur Golf Championship yesterday, when he won by 2 and 1.

In the semi-finals J. D. Langley, an 18-year-old schoolboy and the youngest player ever to reach the last four, beat Cyril Tolley by one up, while H. Bentley beat Stowe by the same margin.—Reuter. Langley won the British Boys' Championship last year.

ELVIN EXCELS AT BISLEY MEETING BERLYN AND PETERS IN LIMELIGHT

NUMEROUS SUCCESSES FOR RIFLES

THE Royal Ulster Rifles, who have secured several team prizes in the Services' section of the first annual Bisley Meeting of the newly formed Hong Kong Rifle Association, yesterday carried off the Inter-Unit team trophy to complete their list of outstanding achievements.

One of the main features of the Bisley Meeting has been the great number of entries other than those from the Services—the Hong Kong Police, Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps and the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserves entered in all events, while the Dockyard Rifle Club and Talkoo Rifle Club were also among the entries. The Police may be said to have entered en masse.

The outstanding performer to date is C. S. M. Elvin, of the East Lancashire Regiment, who has headed the "Services" S. R. Championship Aggregate and the "Bisley" S. R. Championship for Order of Merit, with scores of 68 in each.

Conditions for firing yesterday were the best since the meeting commenced. It was not hot enough to be uncomfortable, while a varying wind did not interfere with the shooting.

There were two good performances in the Services Sweepstakes, Lt. Berlyn, R. N. and Lt. Cpl. Peters, R. E., both securing possibilities (25).

The following is to-day's programme:—

8.15 a.m. Unlimiteds: 9 a.m. "Blackdown," 10 a.m. "Camberley," 11 a.m. "Bengshot," 12.15 p.m. DIVINE SERVICE. 2 p.m. Unlimiteds and Light Automatic Match, 2.30 p.m. "Veterans" Inter-Imperial and Police Forces, "Inter-Universities and affiliated Rifle Clubs."

The following were the results of yesterday's matches:—
The "Services" S. R. Championship Aggregate

The following 18 competitors are eligible to fire at 600 yds. in Match 4—Deliberate—in the final stage, Services S. R. Championship Aggregate, to-morrow:—

K. Forrow, above, the Club pivot, gave a characteristic display yesterday against the Fusiliers in the First Division of the soccer League.

SOUTH CHINA "B" TRIUMPH

East Lanes. Beaten In Poor Game

Caroline Hill was yesterday the venue of one of those annoying games where the side having enjoyed most of the play concedes victory to the opposing team—South China, "B" surprisingly defeated the East Lancashire Regiment by 2 goals to 1 in their premier division soccer encounter.

The game, though close in some respects, was never very thrilling, save when Sammy Taang brought off some of his excellent clearances, and the match must go down as just another game.

Within five minutes of the start Henry Young succeeded in opening South China's account.

Early in the second half Smith, equalised, but, though unable to recapture the combination they displayed in the first 20 minutes, South China again took the lead when Ho Ka-keung netted.

FUSILIERS LOSE ADVANTAGE

Eastern Deserve Point

A soccer game full of thrills was witnessed in the Second Division at Chatham Road yesterday when the Fusiliers and Eastern shared the spoils in a 1-1 draw.

Thrills were plentiful after the interval and both goals had narrow escapes, but the result looked like being a goalless draw until, nearing the end, the Welshmen took the lead through Singleton, who headed past Yip Yan-fook from a free kick taken by Greasy. A well-deserved equaliser, however, came through Chan Ping-to, Eastern's centre-forward, just before the final whistle.

RADIO WIN MAMAK HOCKEY TROPHY

Guest Scores Vital Goal

The Radio Sports Club regained the Mamak Hockey Tournament trophy yesterday when they beat the Kowloon Indians' Tennis Club by a goal scored by A. E. P. Guest in their encounter on the H.K.S.R.A. ground before a fairly large crowd.

The Radio pressed from the start and inside of 10 minutes had opened the scoring through Guest, who gave a remarkably fine display at centre forward, and thereafter the Radio defence came into the limelight.

Rifles Beat Athletic

At Sookunpoo yesterday the Rifles' junior football team had no difficulty in taking both points from the Athletic, the score of 6 goals to 1 representing the superiority of the soldiers.

The Athletic only fielded nine men and this, coupled with the fact that both teams revealed an "end of the season" form, resulted in a dull game.

From the opening whistle it was evident that the depleted Chinese side could not hope to hold their opponents and after Godney had

TALBOT "BRAINS" OF THE TEAM ROBERTS GIVES GLIMPSE OF HIS BEST

CIVILIANS' POOR SHOOTING.

CONSIDERING that football is now rapidly approaching its closing stages and that interest in the game is on the decline, dull games are to be expected when it is remembered that all issues have, more or less, been settled. The meeting between the Club and Fusiliers, however, proved quite the reverse, and, while both teams were not "all out," there was sufficient incident witnessed in this match to place it well above the average "end of the season" affair!

The Fusiliers proved to be the better of the two teams and collected full points with a comfortable win by 3 goals to 1.

The Fusiliers deserved to win due to the fact that their approach play was more methodical and exact, and their advances, especially those of Roberts on the left-wing, always suggested greater danger than the over-hasty and scrambling raids indulged in by the Club.

Rowlands had more to deal with than came the way of Rodger in the Club goal, but the Club, in applying the finishing touches to their forward movements, made numerous blunders to lighten the task of the military keeper.

In making full use of their opportunities, the Fusiliers demonstrated how coolness in shooting obtains goals and so strong and accurately did Evans and Roberts place their scoring shots that Rodger was given absolutely no chance. In contrast, the Club were wild and hurried when in the vicinity of the opposition goal, Pearce, Elliot and Drown all being offenders—Drown spoiled his fine, terrific-like game by twice shooting hopelessly wide when well placed.

Soldier Backs At Best

Hynes, brought in to fill Syd. Strange's place, was, with Nicholls, responsible for some fine clearances in the Club defence, although the full-back honours were easily captured by Wheeler and Keating. Forrow showed good tactics, both in attack and defence, and Robertson, up against the best winger on view, recovered from a shaky opening to play grand football in the later stages.

The Club's forwards strove hard without meeting with much success against a strong defence, but their raggedness and poor positional play resulted in failure. Drown was outstanding with his wholehearted play, Pearce and Skinner were good at times, Elliot was too well covered, and Bickford's bright patches were nullified by his leisurely epigrams.

Talbot was the genius of the Fusilier eleven, but he spoiled his craft by holding on to the ball a shade too long. Evans, a bustling leader, required careful watching, but the best display of the match came from Roberts. He invariably made best use of the ball whenever it came his way, centred with telling accuracy and scored two fine goals.

Fusiliers Score First

A fairly level first-half ended with the Fusiliers in possession of a one goal lead, gained five minutes prior to the "breather." Against the run of play at this period, Roberts made ground on the left to send over a low centre that Evans placed out of Rodger's reach. With the change of ends, both goals underwent pressure and play continued at much the same

RIFLES SURPRISE NAVY

Sailors Lose By Odd Goal

A goal in the opening minute of the game as a result of a penalty and prolonged pressure by the Navy in the second half failed to have the desired effect at Sookunpoo yesterday, when the sailors were forced to concede both points to the Rifles by a score of 2 goals to 1.

The game opened with a misfortune for the Rifles—Spencer broke through, but when just inside the penalty area he was fouled by Pickering. Spencer took the "spot" kick himself and made no mistake.

The Rifles fought back splendidly and had their reward when Brown sent across a perfect centre for Ferguson to equalise. This success spurred the soldiers to further efforts and, after Irwin had engineered a glorious opening, Ferguson again scored with a shot which gave Whitten no chance.

Late in the game McLeod fired in a shot from 40 yards which seemed as though it must be the equaliser, but Connor pulled the ball down in masterly manner.

KOWLOON WIN

Stonecutters Fail After Interval

Football of a very poor standard was seen on the Kowloon ground yesterday afternoon when Kowloon beat Stonecutters by 4 goals to 1. After a goalless first half, Kowloon scored when Boyd transferred to W. Knox, who ran down the line before sending over a well-timed centre from which G. White gave Hall no chance. Their second goal came three minutes after, somewhat luckily, for Hall allowed a moderate shot by Honniball to slip from his grasp.

The Artillery's only goal came through Findley who netted when Boyes, leaving his goal to challenge the centre-forward, dropped the ball at his feet.

From then on the game was in the hands of the Kowloon men, following the complete collapse of the Gunners middle line and it was not surprising when Kowloon went further ahead through V. White, who, unfortunately, left the field after his goal, through an injury. Kowloon's fourth and last goal was scored by Honniball after Hall had pushed out a shot from W. Knox.

As had been the case in the initial-half. The soldiers were now gaining the upperhand and, after 20 minutes, Roberts, receiving a neat pass from Talbot, crashed home a powerful shot. Ten minutes later Roberts successfully converted a centre from Hughes to increase the Fusiliers' lead. The Club then tried the expedient of changing over Forrow and Elliot, a move that proved successful, as the Club "pivot" made full use of his new berth to beat Rowlands to score the Club's lone goal.

Club—Rodger; Hynes; Nicholls; Robertson; Forrow; F. Strange; Bickford; Drown; Elliot; Pearce and Keating; Wanklyn; Talbot; Ellis; Hughes; Harrison; Evans; Dennis and Roberts.

12 GOALS TO NIL

Engineers Swamp Kowloon

In their Second Division soccer encounter yesterday on their own ground Kowloon were overwhelmed by the Engineers, who scored 12 times without reply.

Callard opened the Engineers' account about 10 minutes after the start, and further goals were scored by Howlett (5), Darby (3), Wilford, Boyling and Hurst.

GROUND NOT PREPARED

Although both teams and the officials were in attendance for the First Division fixture between R.A. Lyemun and St. Joseph's on the Naval ground yesterday afternoon, no ground had been prepared and the match was therefore postponed.

CRAIGENGOWER TIE JUNIOR GAME

HOLLAND'S RINK SCORE A SEVEN BUT LOSE

SIXES PROVE COMMON

TWO surprises featured the Lawn Bowls League programme yesterday — the defeat of Kowloon Bowling Green Club at the hands of the Civil Servants and the failure of Craigengower juniors to force a win at Ming Yuen.

Adam Holland's four (J. G. Meyer, J. Henson and M. J. Henderson) recorded a seven at the ninth head against J. Hollidge's rink, but, despite following it up with a three for a 15-8 lead, they lost by two shots. The seven is the highest of the season.

Sixes were common, being recorded by the following skips: A. Hyde-Lay, A. R. Dallah, S. Logan, C. H. Basto and G. E. F. Thompson, all of whom won, and U. M. Omar and W. H. Muskett, both of whom lost.

PAGEANTRY IN THE ORIENT

A Javanese Sultan Holds Review Picturesque Ceremonial At Yogyakarta

(By ADELE DE LEEUW)

IN the very heart of Yogyakarta, in an enclosure a mile square, lives the Sultan of the once independent state of Yogyakarta. He lives there, behind the high white walls of his kraton, in ancient splendour surrounded by his countless dependents.

Occasionally, with the permission of the Dutch rulers, he reviews his troops on the great open plain at the back of his palace grounds. After the heat of the day had abated, about four-thirty, we set out for the review grounds to see the troops reviewed. That is, we started out for the palace grounds; it seemed a simple matter to get there, according to directions we had received. But when we reached "the outer wall" of the kraton, a native policeman told us that we could not drive any farther; we must walk the rest of the way. So we joined the procession which was slowly making its way down the dusty road lined on either side by white walls and houses of plaited bamboo.

Bare Feet In The Dust

Thousands of people merged into that broad stream—grave, solemn men and women, serious, round-lipped little children clasping their parents' hands. Their bare feet moved rhythmically under the dark blue and brown sarongs made no sound except a little slurring noise as they marched down the dusty street.

It gave us a strange, a truly Oriental feeling to be so swallowed up in this picture of moving, somber, dark humanity walking to—out where were they walking to? We came to the end of one dusty street, turned at right angles, continued as far as we could down that interminable road, turned to the left, saw another dusty vista ahead of us—every vista with a few more thousand people clogging the road—and suddenly began to wonder if we ought not to find out exactly where we were bound for.

So we retraced our steps, braving that brown tide now flowing against us, back and back and back to our starting point. The car was there, but Amsah was not, nor were our wraps. We honked on all the notes that were possible on Amsah's double horn and waited.

Presently a slightly haggard chauffeur appeared carrying our coats on his arm; he, too, had been investigating.

On Horseback

The square was filling with men on horseback; prancing, beautiful horses, and men in gay printed trousers, with batik sarongs tucked up around their waists, krissees stuck in their belts, military caps over their batik turbans. There were carriages full of notables and nobles, the footmen and coachmen dressed in red, gold or silver umbrellas being held over the aristocratic occupants. "Hurry, hurry," we cried to Amsah, "you must find us an entrance to the field. It's nearly five o'clock; we shall be late!"

Perhaps his investigating had done some good, for now Amsah drove madly down the narrow street, nearly grazing the passing natives who did not move fast enough to suit him, turning corners until we were dizzy from flashing past white walls and were completely lost. But at last he came out at a wide entrance to the rear compound, from where we could easily walk to a vantage point near the pendopo of His Highness.

The field was like an Oriental fair-ground, alive with people and all the paraphernalia that people require to carry out their idea of a fittingly-celebrated festivity. Vendors had set their little portable stores and outfits on the ground and were busy cooking their fragrant wares. A woman with a rack of glasses on her back and bottles hung over her hips was dispensing a chocolate-coloured liquid that looked good.

A Popular Drink

People seemed enthusiastic about a drink which was proving very popular, shaved coconut with the bright pink liquid made from palm sugar poured over it, served with a dab of shaved ice and a tiny wooden spoon. Old women were chewing lumps of betel-nut and expectorating the bright carmine juice. Grandmothers were buying their grandchildren handfuls of tiny peanuts done up in sections of banana leaf.

Children with long sausage balloons were blowing them up, with a great puffing out of their little brown cheeks, until the overstrained sausages disappeared with a loud report, and the children burst into tears. Women with licorice-coloured teeth were nursing their infants against the kraton walls.

With the exception of a lovely and very imperious fair-haired child carried in the arms of her adoring ayah, we were the only Europeans on the great field, as far as the eye could reach. It was an orderly, almost an apathetic, crowd; or perhaps they take their pleasures more calmly. Men and women squatted on the ground or stood in immobile clusters against the white kraton walls, making clear-cut pictures with their brown skins and the sober blue of their garments against the relieving white.

I was in a state of pleasurable excitement, trying to photograph some of these groups in the late afternoon light: the slender, gentle women, the sombre, white-jacketed men, the plump little children dressed exactly like their elders.

The Sultan Appears

While I was so occupied, the troops had come into the field and formed in lines at the far end. Suddenly there was a fanfare of trumpets, and through the gate in the right angle wall came men on horseback, an impressive figure in bright purple, and—the Sultan himself, wearing many decorations on his dark blue uniform.

All of them rode their horses on the curb, and there was a great deal of prancing and high-stopping. Mail.

They rode between the rows of troops and then danced up to the pendopo near where we stood, nicely protected by a line of native soldiers in khaki uniforms and straw hats turned up rakishly at one side.

Only the Sultan remained under the pendopo, however; the others were ranged outside, and whenever someone came up to report he bent low in the saddle in salutation.

Meanwhile the ground around His Highness had become filled with people who came in from the kraton—members of the household, gorgeously-arrayed awaiting figures in dark blue, wearing their krissees, who rose up on their haunches at the approach of his royal personage and sank back again.

Swishing Off The Flies

Four men with saffron-yellow bodies squatted around the royal horse swishing off the flies from the north, south, east and west legs so that it should not kick and disturb His Highness's police. One of them conversed with the Sultan, beginning and ending his speeches with salutations, palms together, fingers together, the thumbs touching his nose.

Then the music started—flutes and drums, cymbals and gongs, and the troops began to move, as if they were languidly walking out of a barrel of molasses and we were watching a slow-motion picture. As a matter of strict computation, they walked at the rate of thirty-seven steps a minute. Thirty-seven steps a minute—with a precision in their slowness that was amazing and hypnotic.

Each company had its own music, and the big gongs were carried in the hand and, at certain steps, brought forward beyond the body and struck. "Do mi do; do mi do—clear, ringing notes punctuating the garrulous, piping music of the flutes, the retarded beat of the drums, the clashing sound of the cymbals.

Pageant Costumes

What a pageant! What a gorgeous collection of costumes, as if gathered from all the theatrical out-fitters in the world and put together with humour and a barbaric eye for colour! The first company wore red tunics, red hats like firemen's helmets, and red shorts over white trousers. The next wore all white, with red trimmings and bands across the chest. The next again was soberly attired in dark blue-and-white striped tunics, white trousers, black boots and red bands, and they carried bayonets, whereas the other companies had towering lances with pennants.

Then came companies all in black with red bands; companies with black coats, red aprons, and something white hanging over the apron; companies with red tunics, yellow sleeves, short blue-green tied-and-dyed skirts, so tied and dyed that the white portion hung in front like a sporran, and celluloid fezzes divided into two colours, green and gilt; companies with green coats, yellow sleeves, blue and white tied-and-dyed aprons... on and on and on.

Some walked with bare feet, some wore pumps, some shoes, some boots. One thousand men, and it took them half an hour to get around to the reviewing stand. There were arrow carriers, with the quivers hanging over their shoulders, and while the others dipped the colours, they dipped their arrows when they passed the Sultan, sent motionless on his big horse.

Keener than ever to shave you, Sir

—it's electrically tempered

It's true. Gillette's new electrical tempering process definitely does make possible a keener edge than ever before. Two different temperings in one blade is the secret. Extra hardness down the sides is attained by Gillette's special process, which softens the centre of the steel without interfering in any way with the hardness of the cutting edges. Result—while the blades are soft enough in the centre to bend to the razor, the incredibly hard steel at the sides can be honed to a keener edge than you've ever known. Moreover, the edge stays keen longer, thus giving many more shaves per blade.

IT is a pity that our climate compels the cessation of all our spectacular sports at once, but it is only another case that goes to prove that the much-abused English climate is not so bad after all, and that the famous defence of it that it is the best in the world because it allows a man to work in the open air on more days in the year than any other is not so far out. All the more regrettable is it that the one amusement left—other than lawn bowls, swimming and yachting—that is to say racing, should become the subject of controversy. On the merits of the criticism of some recent form it hardly befits any casual spectator to say anything. The Stewards of the Jockey Club have all the information required, and are also to judge how much latitude should be allowed to the wayward temper of the horses themselves. If any doubt arises the handicapper can leave the weight at the figure justified by the horse's best recorded performance, and be less willing to make a reduction for merely rearward actions.

A FREAK RACE

THE most astonishing win I ever saw on a racecourse was at the Kenilworth ground near Capetown nearly thirty years ago. A white mare that was always game, and very often a winner, was for some years as popular as Diana Bay is at Happy Valley. But she met with misfortune in a steeplechase and broke her knees. For two years her name was absent from the programmes, and she changed hands several times, her last transfer being that she was sold for £5 "on the parade"—a kind of miscellaneous cheap market held once a week. The new owner gave her a fortnight's preparation, and to everyone's surprise entered her for the next meeting. All those concerned—but principally the jockeys—arranged on the quiet that "for auld lang syne" she should be allowed to win. When the race started there was a shout of excitement when the favourite ran outside at the first hurdle. Another horse refused. But it was obvious that the old performer simply could not get the pace, though she managed the hurdles safely after taking her own time over it. As "accidents" continued, the spectators could not fail to see that such a chain of coincidences needed a very special explanation, and a small volume of "hoos" was drowned in jeers, and then in laughter. At the distance there were only the old mare and one other horse in the running, and even strenuous pulling failed to keep the other horse behind. The rider did the only thing possible. He fell off. The mare won amid uproarious merriment, and of course never ran again. Beta were called off, but the tote paid £200 on three tickets.

MISS PAMELA BOURNE

THE adventures of Mrs. Erikson on setting out for her honeymoon aboard the Herzogin Cecilie, which went aground on the Devonshire coast, reminds one of that very good sportsman her father, Sir Ronald Bourne, who was seconded from the British Army to tackle the difficult job of organizing an orthodox line of discipline the very effective raw material of young South Africa that was more at home in the happy-go-lucky ways of the commando system. There was never any doubt of the fighting value of the Boer "on his day," but it is on record that General Botha had to postpone an attack because he found that the commando detailed for the duty had gone off to Harismith for a cattle fair. Colonel Bourne did excellent work, but the expedition in 1915 into "German South-West" taxed him and his staff severely. He was very reticent under the demands of the Parliamentary Opposition for information—the object being to show that favouritism had been shown in the purchase of stores. General Herzog was the opposition leader, and on one occasion he got up and asked for full information about mules employed. How many mules had been bought? What was the total expenditure? And so on. General Smuts was then Minister of Defence, and he asked for 10 days' notice of the question.

TRUE MEANING OF SELF-DENIAL NECESSARY PART OF REAL WORSHIP SOMETHING MORE THAN MERE LENTEN OBSERVANCE

(By the Rev. J. N. LEWIS BRYAN)

THERE are a large number of people who quite agree with the principle of self-denial during Lent and, when that season is safely past and gone, with a sigh of relief forget all about it for another year.

If only we realised its value a little more than we do, we would be infinitely better off in most aspects of life. After all it is not some species of magic, which only works effectively for roughly five weeks in the year, and then loses its peculiar "charm." The more we look around upon the world and upon life, the more we are driven to realise its urgency and need.

It is not my purpose to deal with self-denial, in this article, in its many and various phases, but merely to touch upon one; and that is self-denial as an element in our worship.

In the worship of our Church, whatever shade of thought it may be, there must be many elements if it is to be of any value. There must be thanksgiving for the goodness of God and all the gifts of life which we enjoy, health and strength and mind and faculties. There must be an element of spiritual need, and the knowledge that none but God can meet it, and there should also be the element of self-denial.

Meaning Of Self-Denial
I am not referring to the collection, though that forms a part of it. It is as old as worship itself. Of the thirteen boxes in the Temple four were for the free-will offerings of the people. And this spirit passed on into the worship of our Church. So much so that St. Paul, without any thought of bathos, could turn from speaking of the Resurrection and say, "now con-

Leaving the House Colonel Bourne said to him "I really don't know how I shall get out those figures about the mules, we're already working till after midnight." "How long would it take to work them out?" asked the Minister. "It would take half a dozen men at least a week." "Well, let it slide. You go on with your work." The incident was forgotten until, 10 days later, the question came up on the paper. General Smuts rose and in the most matter of fact tone said "total number of mules 7,214, total expenditure, including harness, shoeing, and temporary grazing, £110,042," and then proceeded to reply to the next question. When the House rose, Colonel Bourne said "How on earth did you work out those mule figures? I didn't know any of my men had been put on it." "How long did you say it would take you to collect the correct figures?" "I said six men for a week." "Well, how long do you think it will take General Herzog to find out that my figures were incorrect?"

CAPE AIR DEFENCE

THE new scheme for a big air force proposed by the present South African Defence Minister, Mr. O. Pirow, is a sign of the times. Forty years ago, about the time when we were born, "defence" to a Transvaal Nationalist meant defence against English troops and jealousy of any neighbouring territory, such as Rhodesia, where such troops might be stationed. Now there is a plan for co-operation of all the territories, including Tanganyika and Kenya, with the South African Union, up to the boundaries of a possibly hostile Abyssinia, and the "Cape to Cairo" air route, with big hopes from Cairo, Khartoum, Kismu (a name then completely unknown) and Bulawayo (where no white man had thought of challenging Lobengula's sanguinary rule), is on the verge of getting a weekly schedule. The planes would of course have to fly over Abyssinia, and might have trouble from a hostile Italian administration. The ramifications of this "merely Colonial" war are only beginning. Mr. Pirow himself is a young and active Minister who keeps always in strict training, and must hold a record by virtue of having become a Minister of the Crown while still holding the Amateur Boxing Championship Belt.

cerning the collection."

Gradually, as men became more spiritual, the thought of self-denial deepened also. It was not enough to bring a gift when one came to worship God; another kind of sacrifice was necessary, something that came from the heart.

The Sermon on the Mount very clearly brought out that fact. You will remember those words, "Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the altar and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee, leave there thy gift before the altar and go thy way. First be reconciled to thy brother and then come and offer thy gift."

Christ was talking about worship, not the patching up of domestic quarrels. He was trying to show what was necessary if we are to worship God in spirit and in truth. He takes the giving for granted, but insists that behind it there shall be the self-denial of the heart. It is far easier to give up a coin than it is to give up a quarrel. It is easier to lay down a generous offering than a long-continued grudge.

In plain words, we have to lay aside our pride; and that is not easy and never can be easy. It is not natural, but utterly opposed to inclination. It calls for interior sacrifice. And it is that which makes worship so hard. It is not that a comfortable hour on Sunday with beautiful music and a fluent preacher. It is an attitude of heart and soul, which is impossible without self-denial.

Part Of Worship

Think for a moment about this gathering to public worship. In country places life is often lonely, and men are glad to have the chance of meeting others; but in the city there is always company and the difficulty is rather to be alone, so there is no social instinct to make its appeal.

Were people to consult their own personal inclinations, it is very highly probable they would seldom go to church. One has had a very hard week—"nose to the old grindstone," "working overtime" etc.—and it is not Sunday the day of rest? Or perhaps one is not feeling so well, or it is much too hot, or definitely too cold, or it looks like rain. Or the garden wants attention. Not only so, but one gets so much more good at home anyway. There are no draughts, or distressing coughs. After all there is the wireless, and some kind of a service can be had from somewhere, with a sermon that will do one as much good at home as being there. Others profess to worship God in the open air.

All this may be the flimsiest excuse, or it may be literally true. In any case it reveals the fact that the natural inclination is not churchwards. There is no question that self-denial is needed if we are to go.

Fellowship In Worship

Worship, after all, is fellowship; we are not merely hearers, we are a fellowship of Christian people. You go to a lecture to hear the lecturer, or you go to a theatre to see a play. It does not matter who is beside you—they are nothing to you and you are nothing to them. How many of them would do a hand's turn for you, if you were in trouble? But the Church is a fellowship; and in every fellowship there must be the element of sacrifice.

It is so in the home, if home is to mean anything. So, in the fellowship of public worship, there should be mutual consideration and, if the sermon is boring you stiff, try for your part to remember that it may be helping the person in the next pew.

It is possible to come to church and the difficulty is rather to be and yet never know the reality of worship. One's thoughts may be a thousand miles away, and to reject these intruding thoughts sometimes is incredibly hard. In a theatre you can absorb yourself in the excitement of the play, the dialogue or the scenery, but here it is different.

It is up to the individual to make the needed effort, to shut the gates and to withdraw himself, if he wishes the service to be a means of grace, a kind of spiritual oasis. Bring an offering, said the Psalmist, and come into His courts. Just about the best offering we can bring is self-denial.

Recipe for Romance

...take one complexion keep it MIRROR FRESH

WHAT A SHOCK—in the middle of a magic evening—when you take out your puff and repowder! Smash goes romance!

And it's so unnecessary. When you dress, put on a fragrant film of Marvelous, the new face powder by Richard Hudnut. Now you're looking your loveliest. And you'll stay that way—for Marvelous contains a secret ingredient, beneficial to your skin, that will keep it mirror fresh—as fresh as the moment you left your mirror—from 4 to 8 hours by actual test.

Romance is too precious to destroy so casually. Keep your skin lovely, garden-smooth—know the security of "mirror freshness." Will you try it? Write W. R. Loxley & Co. (China) Ltd., York Building, enclosing 10 cts. (for postage and packing) and we'll send you four generous purse-size boxes of Marvelous Face Powder, enough for two weeks. Or don't wait—stop in at the nearest drug or department store. The name is Marvelous. The maker is Richard Hudnut. And the price will surprise you—just $1.50.

MEN WHO WOULD LIKE TO RETIRE
AT 50, 55 OR 60
ON £50.0.0 A MONTH.

Under the terms of this simple investment plan you can arrange for a monthly retirement income that will be adequate for your needs. It may be £50. It may be £25, £100, or more; but whatever the amount, you will be interested in this modern way of securing for yourself an income that is guaranteed AS LONG AS YOU LIVE.

IN THE MEANTIME YOU ARE INSURED. Your family is also protected whilst you are saving toward this retirement income. Our Life Income Policy designed to provide any income of £50 a month would pay your family £25,000 in cash in case of your prior death. If death should result from accidental cause, your family would be paid £10,000, or double the face amount of the policy.

WE DO NOT WANT ANYONE TO BE DISAPPOINTED. Our Life Income Policy is not offered to men or women over 55. We have other policies and annuity contracts more suitable to their needs nor is this policy available to men in poor health or hazardous occupations. It is distinctly a selective contract, and those who obtain it get full advantage of this selection.

HOW MUCH DOES IT COST? Convenient annual premium deposits take care of everything. Just how large or how small these deposits are depends, of course, on your present age and the amount of retirement income you will choose.

But remember, the Life Income Policy should not be thought of as an expense. It is sound investment and is backed by one of the strongest Life Insurance Companies in the world.

Find out to-day just how small a premium is required to secure for you the income you want. Full particulars without obligation will be sent at your request. Just post the coupon.

CONGRATULATIONS to every man and woman { whose teeth are still perfect whose hair is still healthy whose nerves are still steady whose vitality is still buoyant

They've escaped the most common complaint of civilized people—a shortage of minerals in the body. Teeth were meant to last a lifetime, hair to retain its colour and luxuriance, and the heart and nervous system should give carefree service for 'three-score years and ten'.

But teeth, hair, nerves and muscles depend for well-being on the millions of cells of which the body is made up. These cells must have plenty of minerals to keep them strong; any shortage weakens them and you soon feel the effect in every organ of your body. Kalzana supplies the body with all the minerals it requires, in an easily absorbed form. Therefore, the effects of Kalzana are quickly felt in increased vitality, better appetite, soothed nerves. Soon the whole system is toned up. The teeth regain strength and hardness and decay is arrested. Radiant health returns—to stay. Start taking Kalzana without delay—give it to your children too.

"I am never without Kalzana, not taking them always, but at any time of extra strain, and when there are infections about. I find my resistance to disease and my general health marvellous."

Teeth must work to live, the mastication of crisp hard foods and the regular mastication of the gums are necessary to their existence, for crushing and mastication are exercise and exercise is as essential to teeth as it is to every other organ of the body.

Strict cleanliness is essential too—not just a mere brushing of the front and back surfaces, but a cleansing which dislodges the food particles in the crevices, around the necks and between the teeth.

The pleasant antiseptic bacteria destroying foam of Gibbs Dentifrice is ideal. Gibbs really cleans the teeth—making them healthy, and sparkling white.

Your Dentist, whom you should visit twice a year, recommends Gibbs—the perfect Dentifrice which cleanses every tooth surface.

CANADIAN BUDGET BUSINESS TAXES INCREASED

Some Specific Duties Removed

BRITISH PREFERENCE

Ottawa, Yesterday.

In the Canadian budget the individual income-tax is unchanged, the corporation income-tax is increased from 13½ to 15 per cent., the tax on the consolidated income of a company and its subsidiaries is increased from 15 to 17 per cent., and the sales tax from 6 to 8 per cent. Under the British preference all iron and steel and machinery not made in Canada and a number of other goods are put on the free list.

The existing specific duties on all yarns or fabrics wholly cotton or artificial silk are removed. The duties on a number of goods imported under British preference or an intermediate tariff have been reduced.—Reuter.

CANTON-HANKOW RAILWAY

Of Great Strategic Value

DISPUTE ABOUT MAIN STATION

[From Our Own Correspondent]

Canton, Yesterday.
Work is being actively pushed to complete the 120 miles of the unfinished portion of the Canton-Hankow Railway, so that the line will be completed by the end of this month in view of the military value of the railway, it was learned yesterday.

Regular passenger and freight traffic will begin auspiciously on the Double-Tenth Celebrations (October 10), although the railway may be used any time next month.

Owing to Canton's opposition, the question of linking that line with the Canton-Kowloon Railway is being shelved for the time being. The Central Authorities are in favour of connecting the two railways, in the interest of convenience and economy to passengers and shippers.

Canton and Nanking are disputing the choice of a grand terminus. Canton's argument in favour of having the main stop here is not accepted by Nanking, which proposes that Hankow be the chief station.

A solution is not possible until the political relations between Canton and Nanking are adjusted peacefully or otherwise.

The corresponding rates to India (Calcutta) are 40, 20 and 20 cents; to Iran (Djask, Bushire), 80, 35 and 35 cents; and to France (Marseilles), Other Countries in Europe and Great Britain (London), $1.20, 62 cents and 52 cents.

Government notifications Nos. 1390 and 865 are cancelled.

Announcing

LINCOLN ZEPHYR

THE NEW TWELVE-CYLINDER CAR THAT BRINGS FORD AND LINCOLN STANDARDS OF VALUE TO THE MEDIUM-PRICE FIELD

To-day the Hongkong public has the privilege of viewing for the first time the LINCOLN-ZEPHYR — an authentically modern motor car — which is on display at Wallace Harper & Co., Ltd., 223 Nathan Road, Kowloon.

It has a 12-cylinder motor; a motor of the V-type, proved so efficient in Lincoln and Ford cars. This engine develops 110 horsepower. The wheelbase is 122 inches. The springbase is 133 inches. The bore and stroke is 2¾ inches by 3¾ inches. The roomy body accommodates six people and luggage.

The LINCOLN-ZEPHYR is, above all things, a new car, new in idea, performance, appearance. But it does share the background of experience, the creative engineering skill that have developed the Ford and the Lincoln cars. It is built in its own specially equipped division of the famous Lincoln precision plant. Workmen trained for years in building the Lincoln bring to it methods and precision they have learned so well. It reflects the Ford skill in organizing production that combines quantity with quality, that gives value at a price. Only thus could a car of such power, size and beauty be offered for so little. Only thus could it represent in the medium-price field as genuine a value as the Lincoln and Ford cars in theirs.

As you inspect the LINCOLN-ZEPHYR for the first time, you will be impressed by the sweeping beauty of its every line. It employs fully the principles of aero-dynamic design. Streamlines flow from end to end and from side to side. But grace of line, in this case, does more than express a style trend. It reflects principles of design and construction as new as the car itself.

Steel trusses make possible the bridge, the airplane fuselage, the Marconi tower — structures of light weight but great strength. Steel trusses underlie the flowing curves of this new car. Body and frame are one, welded together. Here is a steel bridge, the body, a rigid structure, supported at two points, the front and rear springs. The roof and roof-members, with the floor and floor-members, carry the stresses.

The first result of this new construction, obviously, is great safety under all conditions.

Great comfort follows inevitably. The center of gravity is low; passengers step directly onto the floor of the car; and the weight of all passengers is poised between the axles. There is no "back-seat" ride.

Soft transverse springs minimize the "up-and-down" motion, the jounces, the bumps of the road that rob riding of comfort. We have no hesitancy in saying that this car, with its smooth V-12 power offers a new rhythm of motoring. The gliding ride results naturally from its design.

Plan to spend at least an hour at the exhibit. A new understanding of the motor car awaits you. Arrange for a demonstration. Performance is as refreshing as appearance.

LIGHTER SIDE OF TENNIS

I.R.C. Holding Novelty
Tourney To-day

FIVE EVENTS ON CARD

The Indian Recreation Club have arranged a novelty tennis tournament for this afternoon and, weather permitting, an extremely enjoyable afternoon is promised.

There will be altogether five events on the programme, the first being a "coloured" balls' singles tournament in which six balls will be provided, each coloured differently, and competitors will play the best of three games on the knock-out system. It is understood that neither S. A. Rumjahn nor H. D. Rumjahn will participate in this event.

Then comes what is described as "Nine Pins," in which nine empty tins will be placed around the middle spot of one of the service lines. Players will stand behind the opposite baseline and with five balls and his own racket will endeavour to knock down as many tins as possible. The player hitting down most tins wins.

Volleying Test

This will be followed by volleying, doubles championship, for which event the confines of the court will be limited to the service lines and the singles side lines. Service is to be underhand and all balls must be taken on the volley. The side allowing the ball to bounce loses the point. Partners will be drawn for and the best of three games will be played on the knock-out system.

A team race is the fourth event. Each team will consist of four players to be drawn for. They will be provided with a racket and ball. Players must run the length of the court, carrying racket by the handle with ball on the stringing. The racket must be passed from one player to another. The side to pass the winning post first, carrying racket and ball in position wins. If the ball is dropped with the racket and not the hand.

Finally there is to be a "Dud Singles Championship," run on the knock out system the best of three games. Balls will be allotted thus affecting the bounce as well as the competitors' judgment and stroke.

HONG KONG, SUNDAY, MAY 3, 1936

Cinemas And Censors

WE are at present in the middle of what we may call the Hong Kong "Silly Season." The winter sports competitions are finished, and we have not yet adapted ourselves to the dolce far niente mood of summer. Some of the surplus energy naturally runs into "letters to the Editor," and the easiest subject is the film censor, with diversions in the way of animadversions on the film distributor. Let it be admitted that no such thing as finality in the cinema business has yet been reached—much less in the cinema art and the cinema morals. There is plenty of room for discussion, which is merely an indication of life and thought. What one may ask is that the discussion shall be well-informed, and that the thinking shall be clear.

So far as the art is concerned the root fact is that the Hollywood monopoly of "silents," which seemed to have got itself firmly established on a basis of princely revenues and more than princely salaries, received a staggering blow from the introduction of "talkies," from which it has never quite recovered. The money spent on installing sound and securing performers that knew how to deliver their lines destroyed the export monopoly that produced two-fifths of the total revenue, and cost only about one-twentieth of the production expenditure.

On the business side a vast error was committed, through competition with rival producers, in the attempt to build theatres that would be "tied" to one company. Not only were heavy running costs involved and heavy interest on mortgages, but the company was committed to making enough films to keep a theatre going throughout the year. That meant about 120 films, and neither the capital nor the talent available was anything like equal to such a task. A "free" manager, owning his own theatre, would only be able to get half that number in a year, even if all the companies were willing to make deals with him on reasonable terms—which is very far from the present position. But he has to keep open, for the cinema is dependent largely on a public that like to go once or twice a week. He has no option but to accept films on a "block" list that he would not have chosen on their merits. The confusion will not be removed unless evolution goes either towards "free" management, or "one big company," or a general system of exchange of attractive films.

About the 60 films that a free manager would voluntarily select critics, censors and public would agree. It is the other 60 that causes difficulty. The deficit would be greatly decreased by a cessation of the international rivalry that excludes good foreign films—it is surely odd that in Hong Kong "foreign films" should include English—and this could be secured either by a mutual agreement between companies for the exchange of so many films a year, or by the reservation of so many days a year for the allied foreign company, or still better, by the formation of an international board that would manage the details. Rivalry loses hundreds of thousands of pounds a year by failing to attract patrons who would otherwise swell the box office returns, and the alternative is co-operation.

The censor has no trouble with a large proportion of the 60 films that are used as "fill-ups" in the blocks. Some of them are just dull plots that nobody could make thrilling. Others show good performers who do not appear at their best, though they have made a name when they were better cast in other roles. Every theatre manager knows that he sometimes loses money on what he thought a promising play simply because for some reason or other the performers could not "get it over"—the jokes did not raise a laugh, and the pathos did.

Then there is the crime film, which does not alter its character when the hero is a "G-man." Opinions differ as to the amount of effect on life that can be ascribed to what is done on stage or screen. Every audience contains several classes, apart from social standing or age. It is a question of psychology, of suggestibility. Psychologists grade us according to a standard based on the average normal development of a healthy citizen at various ages, and they say that 80 per cent. of the cinema revenue comes from people whom they would put at 16 years. It is rather a pitiful thought for the educated adult who would like to have films up to his own standard of amusement. Like democracy, the cinema awaits a rise in the general level of education.

Hong Kong Personalities

MR. A. W. INGRAM

This is the ninety-first of the exclusive series of sketches of leading Colony residents by Mr. A. S. Konyo, the talented Hungarian artist.

OUR Personality this week is Mr. Archibald William Ingram, Secretary of the European Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Ingram was born in South Australia on May 20, 1888. When he was about eight years of age came the gold discoveries in Western Australia and it is interesting to note that his maternal grandfather, a Mr. Pearce, was the co-discoverer, with a Mr. Brockman, of the famous "Golden Mile."

Thither Mr. Ingram's father went with his family and, after the alluvial gold deposits had been worked out, settled down to mixed farming at Narraggin, near Kalbarrie, the famous gold-rush town to which water had to be pumped 500 miles across waterless country. It was here that Mr. Ingram received his early education.

From an early age Mr. Ingram was ambitious to enter the ministry and was studying to that end and acting as a student pastor and back-blocks missionary when the Great War broke out. After a period of activity raising money for the work of the Y.M.C.A. abroad he was sent to work on their behalf at Blackboy and Mungarie camps, where the first Australian contingent were preparing for their service overseas.

Next he was appointed to do troopship work on the transport Orsova between Australia and England. On reaching London he was taken on to the Y.M.C.A. National Hospitality League, which looked after the interests of men on leave from France and assisted them to spend their leave pleasantly and profitably, away from the metropolis if possible. For some time he was Secretary-in-charge at Horsferry Road and subsequently served in the same capacity on Salisbury Plain, looking after the welfare of the troops stationed there. After the armistice he was transferred to France and remained there until the demobilisation of the troops was completed in 1919, when he returned to W. Australia.

For the next two years he worked on his father's farm, in which he held a partnership; but then the lure of the East, stimulated by lectures he had heard during the war, proved stronger than his interest in the farm and he left for Singapore in 1921, to work where East and West came into contact. From 1921 to 1923 he served as a member of the Board of Directors of the National Y.M.C.A. and Hon. Secretary in charge of the boys' department, and subsequently became principal of Oldham Hall boys' school.

Then followed a year in New Zealand, where he was attached to the Central Mission, Auckland; but again the East called him and he left for Hong Kong in 1925, where, after a period in the service of the Cement Products Company, he was appointed, in December 1926, Assistant Secretary, and sea-going secretary on harbour work of the Y.M.C.A., finally succeeding Mr. J. H. Hunt as Secretary, on the latter's retirement, in April 1934.

"GOOD-BYE WITH EVERY REGRET"

SOUTHORNS' FAREWELL TO HONG KONG

Just before he boarded the motor launch Britannia, which conveyed him and Lady Southern from Queen's Pier to the s.s. Carthage, by which they left for Home yesterday morning, Sir Thomas Southern, Governor-designate of The Gambia, asked the Sunday Herald to give a message of farewell to Hong Kong on their behalf. He said: "We say good-bye to Hong Kong with every regret and we wish the Colony every success and prosperity."

Sir Thomas and Lady Southern are proceeding Home on leave prior to going to The Gambia, and evidence of the high esteem and regard in which they are held by the community in Hong Kong was shown by the very large and representative gathering which assembled at Queen's Pier to bid them farewell and bon voyage.

THOSE PRESENT

Capt. W. J. R. Cragg, A.D.C., represented His Excellency the Governor, and others present were the Hon. Mr. R. A. C. North, Acting Colonial Secretary, Mr. Justice J. J. and Mrs. Hayden, Commodore and Mrs. Sedgwick, the Hon. Mr. G. C. Alabaaster, Mr. E. P. H. Lang, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. D. Forrest, the Hon. Sir Henry and Lady Pollock, Mr. H. R. B. Hancock, Mr. Charles L. Hoover, Consul-General for the United States, Herr Glipperich, Consul-General for Germany, Dr. and Mrs. G. D. R. Black, the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carrie, the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Lo, the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau, the Hon. Dr. A. R. and Mrs. Wellington, the Hon. Mr. W. H. and Mrs. Bell, Miss Clara Hottung, Lady Hottung, Mr. and Mrs.

G. R. Sayer, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Abbott, the Hon. Mr. S. H. Dodwell, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. K. Hawkins, the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. J. Paterson, Mr. V. M. Grayburn, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Perdue, Mr. C. C. Champkin, Mr. A. el Arculli, Mr. S. T. Williamson, Mr. J. H. B. Lee, Mr. R. D. Scott, Mr. T. M. Hazelrigg, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Dunbar, Mr. J. K. Macgregor, Mr. Lau King-tung, the Hon. Mr. J. P. Mr. A. W. G. Tickle, Mr. Fung Kong-yuen, Sir William Hornell, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pestonji, Mr. Peter Sin and many others.

GUARD OF HONOUR

Sir Thomas and Lady Southern arrived at Queen's Pier promptly at 11 a.m., where they were received by the Hon. the Inspector General of Police, Mr. T. H. King. Sir Thomas then proceeded to inspect the Guard of Honour provided by the Hong Kong Police Force, under Mr. L. H. Calthorp, A.S.P., while Lady Southern chatted with her many friends on the pier.

So numerous were the well-wishers of Sir Thomas and Lady Southern that it was fully 40 minutes before they finished their leave-taking, and as the Britannia moved away from the Pier this very popular couple were accorded three hearty cheers.

Sir Thomas and Lady Southern stood at the rails of the launch, waving goodbye to Hong Kong, and they were noticed to be looking regretfully towards the Peak, which had been their home for so many years.

'Ovaltine' for Health

The well-being of her children, and of every member of her family, is what every thinking woman holds most precious. It must never be left to chance. No other consideration will weigh with her like the certainty of good health. It is for this reason that 'Ovaltine' is the established food beverage in the majority of homes throughout the world. Experience has proven that 'Ovaltine' is unequalled as the daily beverage for maintaining vigorous health, and as a "night-cap" for ensuring sound, natural sleep. Moreover, it is the food beverage most widely recommended by doctors everywhere. 'Ovaltine' is, in itself, a complete and perfect food, scientifically prepared by exclusive processes. It contains every nutritive element required for building up body, brain, and nerves, and it provides this nourishment in the most easily digestible and assimilable form. Avoid haphazard mixtures of cocoa and chocolate which claim to be "just as good." There is nothing just as good as 'Ovaltine.'

A Giant And His Glands •

Science explains the Growth of an Eight-Foot Freak

ject, holds that the stocky dwarfs, with normal trunks but arms and legs too short and peculiarly bent, constitute a new race of men. There are well-proportioned human midgets and giants and well-proportioned undersized and oversized animals. Irish Wolfhounds and Great Danes are examples among dogs.

Sceptical Eyebrows

Robert Wadlow is now within an inch of attaining the height of Charles Byrne (O'Brien), who died in 1783 and whose skeleton is preserved in the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons in London. John Middleton, who died in 1623, is credited by his epitaph with a height of 9 feet 3 inches. Gland experts raise a sceptical eyebrow. So with the Russian Machinov. His reputed height of 9 feet 3 inches fails to win the credulity of the knowing. Dr. Harvey Cushing, an expert, is convinced that no one ever reached a height even approaching 9 feet.

Will Robert Wadlow stop growing? Undoubtedly. Just as his pituitary became very active for no accountable reason early in life (he weighed only 9 pounds at birth), so will it subside without warning.

ROBERT Wadlow burst into print recently. He had not committed a murder; he had not broken a world's record for swimming 100 yards or sitting on a flagpole; he had, in fact, done nothing more sensational than reach the age of 18. Just by being himself he managed to attract the attention of about 1,200 newspaper editors. For Robert is 8 feet 4 inches tall, weighs 390 pounds, wears No. 39 shoes costing $86 a pair and tosses his 160-pound normal father about as if he weighed only 150 ounces.

Freak? Yes. But a freak for which there is now some explanation, whereas 50 years ago there was none.

"Master Gland" Wrong

Something is wrong with Robert's pituitary gland, which lies beneath the brain. "Master gland," the more imaginative medics call it. For it controls not only growth but sex and milk secretion. There is undoubtedly a connection between the pituitary and the thyroid and parathyroid glands in the neck, the thymus and the cortex or "bark" of the suprarenals, which lie just above the kidneys and determine how pugnacious and energetic we are. No wonder nature buried the pituitary deep in the skull for protection.

Inject the growth hormone extracted from the anterior or front lobe of the pituitary and a prodigious increase in size and weight follows in rats and certain species of dogs. But injection of large doses in a 17-year-old undersized boy had no effect. The reason is not wholly clear. The ability of the tissues to respond is one factor. No amount of growth hormone can transform a hereditary dwarf into a giant.

Pituitary Extremes

Obscure as the action of the gland still is, there can be no doubt that the bulldog is a pituitary freak. Something is wrong with his glands — above all, with his pituitary. Technically, he is what the doctors call an acromegalic dwarf.

The other extreme is acromelagly — giantism in plain English. Blood-hounds, mastiffs and St. Bernards are examples. They have so much skin that it wrinkles on the forehead and muzzle. The bones of the legs are big and heavy. Human giants are usually acromelagics. Their hands and feet are too large for their bodies. Unsymmetrical development results in a gorilla-like monstrosity.

Dr. Charles R. Stockard, a leading authority on this sub-

Mainly about WOMEN

Quo Vadis?

TWO weeks ago I printed a letter in which a man expressed a few flattering things about women—or rather, I should say, to the detriment of man. And then last week A.R.S. after reading it felt the urgent need to, as he put it, administer the slipper. For the time being I shall not enter into the controversy myself either pro or contra but leave the battlefield open for a "free-for-all." I am especially keen to hear some comments from women; they might bring in some interesting argument, for it is generally believed that women's outlook on life is quite different from the outlook of men. And there is probably a lot to be said for both sides.

In literature there is quite a large section of books devoted to the problem of the sexes and it is interesting to compare the widely divergent views of some of the most eminent authors. Still more interesting is it to survey the field of pictorial or plastic arts where the subject of the artist is woman. The students of art tell us that the Old Masters did not seek to portray nature as they saw it but rather to create what to their mind was the ideal human figure. And, during our survey, it must strike us how much that ideal varies from age to age. We are also told how artists in this manner could actually improve on nature because men and women tried to reach the standard of perfection set up by the artist. If we concede to this theory to any extent it is rather perplexing to continue our survey when we come to some of the movements of modern art.

There was an exhibition held recently in New York which gave a comprehensive history of all modern art movements. I am here reproducing a few pictures which were shown at that exhibition; and if there is something in the theory that women strive to conform to the ideals set up by artists, I wonder what sort of diets and bends they will adopt to achieve the types shown in these pictures. I must confess that I have sometimes seen figures on beaches not very unlike that portrayed by M. Georges Braque, which is reproduced here, and I wonder whether it is the result of trying to conform to the ideal created by that artist.

Women Are Better Drivers

MEN as a rule scorn women drivers, so the following extracts selected from various authorities, whose opinions are based on practical experience, may be of interest.

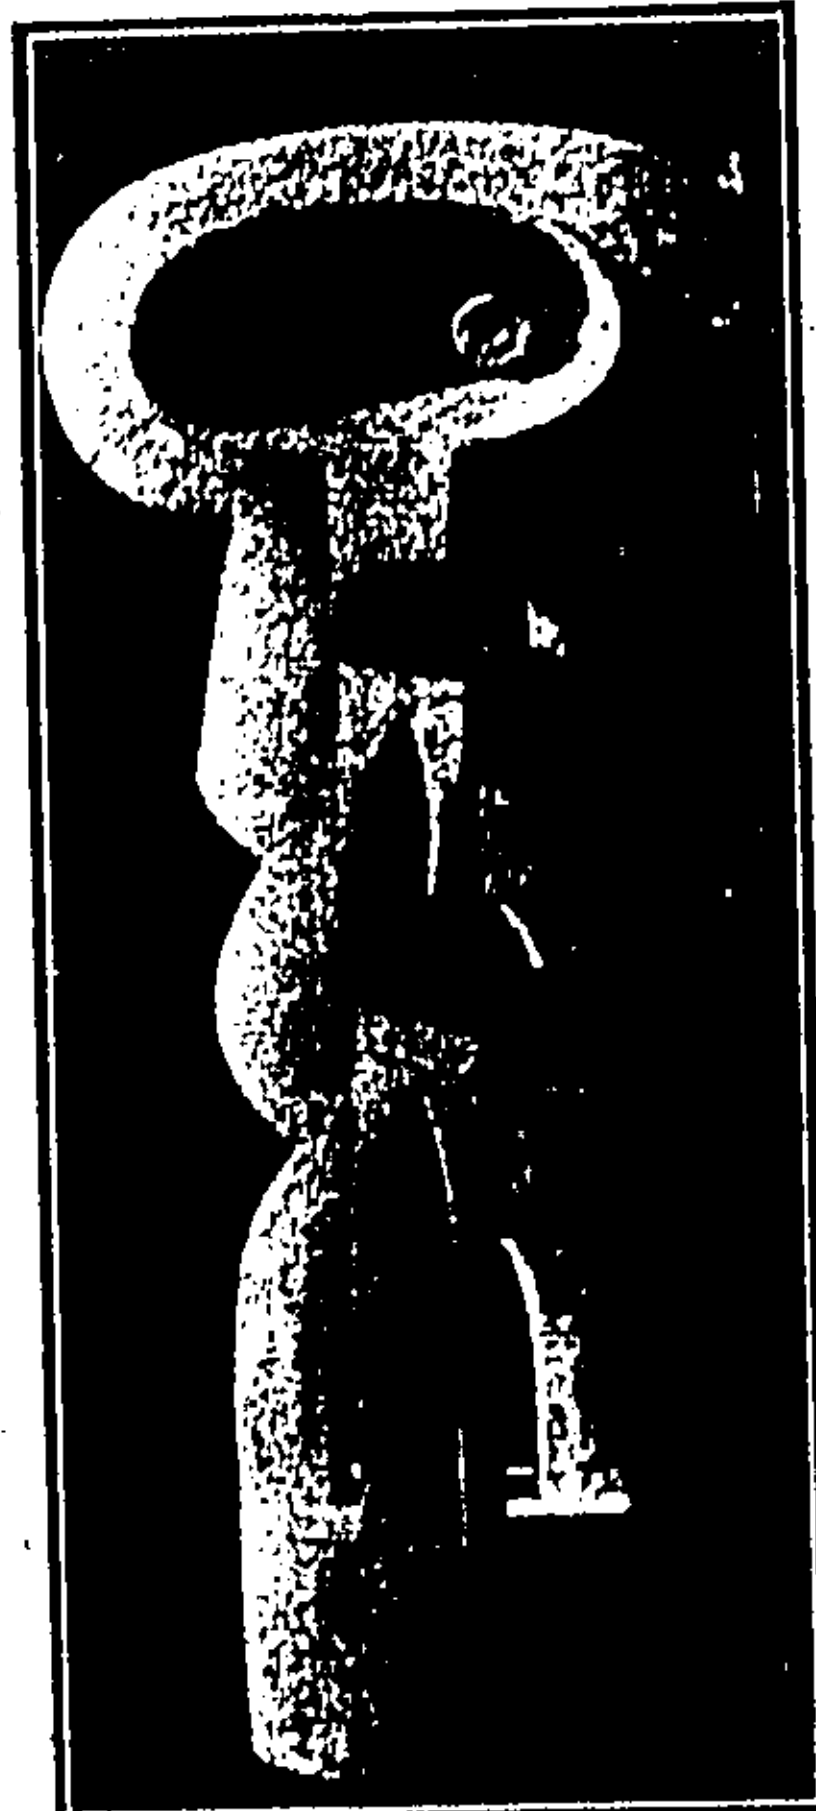

In 1932, at the request of the Ministry of Transport, The National Safety First Association, England, made an investigation of the causes of 3,000 fatal road accidents which occurred during the last six months of last year. According to the report, women constituted 4.65 per cent. of drivers of motor cars whose errors of judgment were deemed the contributing causes of accidents. In control of vehicles of all descriptions, the percentage of women causing accidents was 2.9 per cent.

The American Automobile Association, after tests by the Institute of Government Research, declares: "There is no basis for the assertion that women drivers are more liable to lose their heads than men."

Dr. F. A. Moss, who conducted the tests, says: "The average reaction time of the 10 college women experimented upon was .56 seconds, while that of the 25 men from the same institution was .59 seconds. Women are more careful than men, as witness the fewer accidents they meet with and the rarity of suits for damage against them."

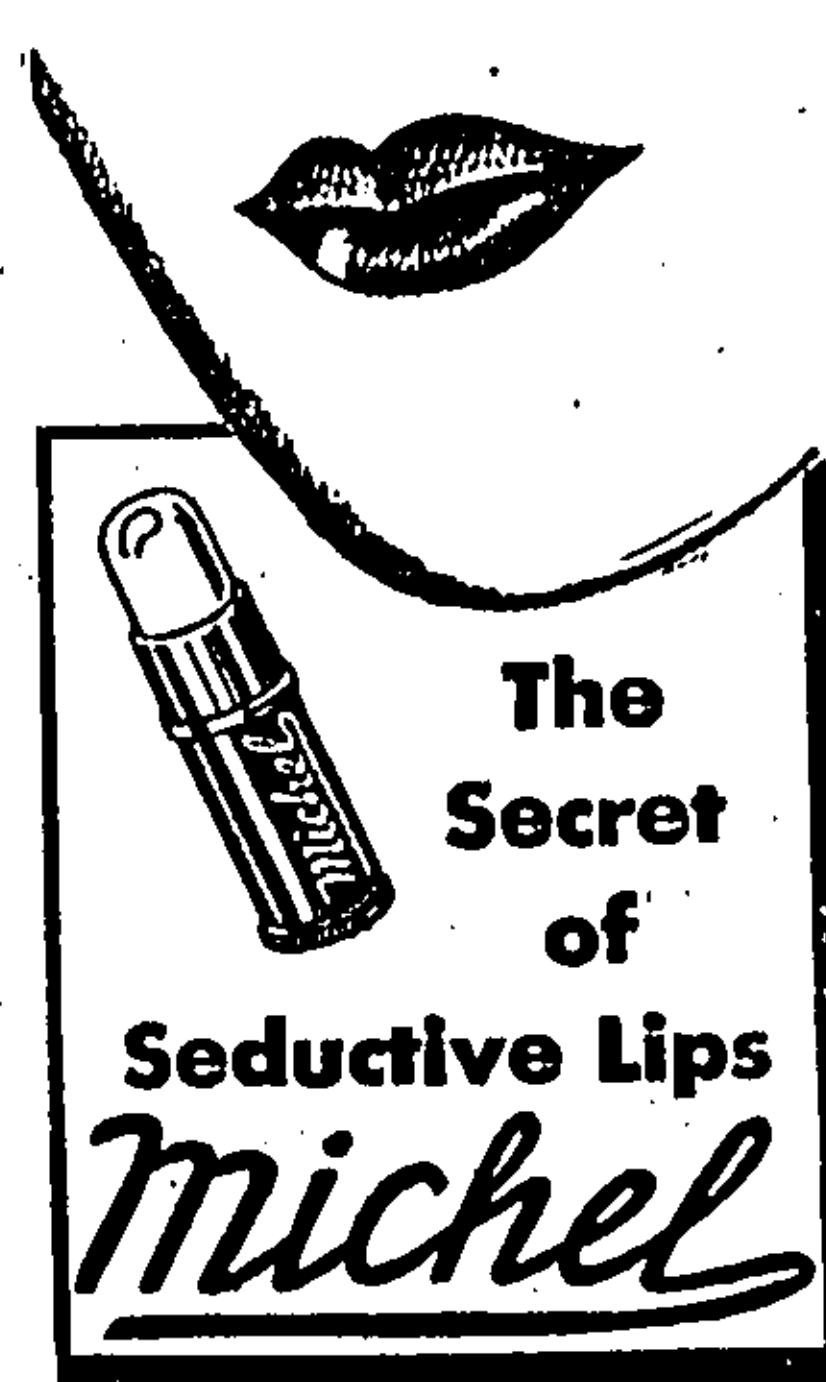

In the "Motor," the veteran motorist and aviator, Lieutenant-Colonel J.T.C. Moore-Brabazon, M.P. says: "When physical strength is of least importance, and courage, skill, and endurance paramount, women can hold their own with men and even beat them. I have had a great deal of experience motor-ing, and I can say that, in my opinion, women drivers are every bit as good as the men."

(Right) — This other example of the new "art," a painting by Georges Braque, is simply entitled "Nude." Where's your feminine beauty now?

About TOWN

A group photograph taken at the farewell party for Lady Southern, given last week by the Busy Bees Working Party. The guest of honour is seated in the centre. ("Herald" photo).

WITH a fortnight of farewell parties added to the usual labour of packing, Sir Thomas and Lady Southern will be able to get the maximum enjoyment out of a couple of deck chairs; but there is this consolation: that few voyages give so much opportunity for that particular luxury. The long voyage across the Indian Ocean is usually calm and not too hot, though the fresh breezes of the "Cape of Storms" are felt as a welcome change. Then comes an even better spell of weather up the West Coast of Africa, but the luxuries of the Union-Castle liners are not available for passengers to Gambia.

Mementos

THE feeling of regret at the loss of any prominent figure is very genuine, but it is a pity that the formal expression of it tends to be so stereotyped, and the memorial gifts from a number of different societies and circles look like a very miscellaneous collection of bric-a-brac. The idea of having a general gift from the whole community often occurs, but in these matters sentiment is everything, and the different groups of donors often have no common link except the personality of the departing friend. Lady Southern has always been not only a member but a regular attendant of the monthly shows of the Art Club, and when consulted as to her preference in the way of a parting gift said that she "adored the sea, and would like something that would specially remind her of Hong Kong." The "set subject" this month was "shipping", and about twenty entries were secured. Of these she selected a water-colour showing several junks moored at the Wanchai Praya, by Mr. Wong Shu Ling, who has been busy lately on the "murals" to adorn the Ball Room at the Hotel Cecil. The secretaryship has been taken over by Mrs. R. C. Barrett, as Miss King finds her hands full of other work.

sies wherever broadcasting has been introduced. The managers cannot be blamed for choosing the easiest path, for it is clearly impossible to put things on all the time that will suit all the tastes. The philosophic attitude is to listen to what one likes, and switch off the rest; but it is the special difficulty of broadcasting that the people at the studio do not know who, or how many, have switched off any particular feature. Unless the subscribers write and state their preferences it is all guesswork, and the "fan" letters are very often so contradictory as to cancel out. Suggestions for future items are more useful. But the other form of criticism, which consists in opposition active enough to produce rude letters and even demonstrations of remonstrance, is what managers aim at avoiding. It is politics of course that makes most of the mischief, and it is difficult to say beforehand what will be considered political. The B.B.C. had much searching of heart when Marconi himself—who has an English wife, and speaks excellent English—applied to be allowed to broadcast from Daventry a statement of the Italian case against the League. Clearly few items could be more interesting, and there were special reasons for shrinking from giving offence to this applicant. But it was ruled that permission would involve an offer to the Abyssinian Ambassador to make a reply, and that that would make hot feeling. It will be remembered that when the Empress had been secured for a talk, it was jammed by a very powerful installation using the same wave-length.

International War In The Air

THE offence given to Marconi was by no means the end of the incident. The Columbia Company had arranged to broadcast Marconi's address all over the United States, and the American Companies took up the question with the Government, arguing that it was intolerable that the English Company, by having the only station with sufficient power, should be able to censor programmes arranged for the American public. There is now talk of building a new station on the Continent which would put them into direct communication with other countries—and the result will probably be a big expenditure and the duplication of much work which might just as well be done from one station. But the transatlantic controversy is only one side-issue. When we talk about the "war in the air" we are usually thinking of aeroplanes. There is another war going on from day to day all over Europe, which consists in using the microphone for bitter propaganda, and not a little intentional jamming, reinforced by prosecution of licence holders who tune in to foreign broadcasts and talk about news that they have heard which is censored in their own country. It must be remembered that all the "dictatorship countries" prohibit most foreign newspapers, and censor all telegrams. In Italy, Germany, Russia, Poland, and some other countries, the mass of the people simply do not get any information that the Government does not consider to be "for their health."

There is a new movement recently that is sadly belated, but may get much support. Scientific men are recognising that their new discoveries, however much they may hope they are making the world richer and happier, are actually being used mostly to make bitterness and destruction. A guild has been organised to withhold from general use anything new that is likely to do harm. The idea is utopian in days when every Government has a laboratory experimenting with poison gases, but the fact that science is making life harder is one that calls for deep thinking.

THE correspondence in the daily papers on the subject of the wireless programmes is not likely to lead to any definite result. Both the problem itself and the criticisms and replies are echoes of similar controver-

V.R.C. In Luck's Way
AMONG the latest recruits to Colony aquatic circles is Lieut. J. M. Calvert, R.E., who played water-polo for Cambridge University and who is the Army half-mile swimming champion. He intends joining the Victoria Recreation Club and should prove a definite acquisition.

Army Champion Arrives
LIEUT. R. A. BARRON, R.E., who has represented Cambridge University at water-polo, was a recent arrival in the Colony.

Frank Read To Make Comeback
FRANK READ, a former member of the Kowloon Swimming Club, and a fine water-polo player, intends resuming his aquatic activities with the European "Y". He has an Interport swimming "cap" for Shanghai, and is also a more than useful lawn tennis player.

"Y" Swimming Meeting
THE annual meeting of the swimming section of the European Y.M.C.A. has been fixed for Friday, May 15, at 5.30 p.m. in the West Lounge. Three very important suggestions will be brought up which may materially affect the membership.

Miss Yeung To Specialise
MISS Yeung Sau-chun, sister of China's mermaid, Miss Yeung Sau-king, is putting in a lot of practice at the South China Bathing Pavilion at North Point. I understand that she will specialise in the back-stroke this summer.

Nazarin's Challenge At V.R.C.
K. Nazarin, the Indian Recreation Club first eleven cricketer who won the junior breast-stroke race at the Victoria Recreation Club championships last summer, intends going in for aquatics seriously this season. He has not started training yet, but I understand he will be doing so in the very near future.

Knight In Training All Year Round
KNIGHT, of Lyemun, who was the mainstay of the Gunners' team in the Area Aquatic Sports last year, is devoting more time this season to swimming and will start as soon as the soccer season is over.

Badminton Player Due Back
JOCK Gardner, of the Asiatic Petroleum Company, who played badminton in the League for the Fire Brigade team a couple of seasons ago and who was on the Ranpura when she went ashore, is due to return to the Colony about the middle of this month.

Firdos Khan Defending Title
FIRDOS Khan, holder of the Kowloon Indians' Tennis Club singles title, has again entered the final in this year's tournament. He will meet Iqbal Mahan Singh, a much improved player, but should win quite comfortably.

TSUI YAN-PUI, who with his brother Tsui Wai-pui, the Colony tennis champion, won the Colony lawn tennis doubles title at the Hong Kong Cricket recently, first took up tennis six years ago when he was but 14 years of age. Like his brother, he is also a product of Queen's College, Hong Kong, and it was in this school that he learned how to play tennis.

He met with his first success in 1932, when he won both the singles and doubles titles at Queen's College and it was, incidentally, in the same year that he first entered the Open Championships. Two years later he won the singles crown at the South China Athletic Association, and it was also in this same season that he, with Tsui Ping-fan as his partner, reached the semi-final of the Open Doubles championship.

Young Tsui won Interport recognition last year when he travelled to Shanghai with the unsuccessful Colony side, and in the same year he took part in the Chinese National Games, in which, partnered by Lai Kwong-tsun, he took Gordon Lum and Khoo Hooi-hye to five sets.

As far as the Singles Championship is concerned, Tsui reached the quarter-final this year, only to be beaten by H. D. Rumjahn. He has also won the Chinese Recreation Club doubles title, with his brother, and it will be of interest to note that the final of the singles championship at this Club will be a family affair in that the two Tsuis—Wai-pui and Yan-pui—will be opposed to one another.

Our young sports personality has represented the C.R.C. "A" in the Tennis League for a few seasons, and it is a great pity that his partiality for tennis leaves him but little time for any other game as he is a more than useful all-round cricketer.

Recreio Tennis Tournaments
CLUB de Recreio's annual lawn tennis tournament will commence to-morrow on their courts at King's Park. The following are the respective draws:— Men's Singles Championship:— J. J. Remedios received a bye into the Second Round, J. Tavares v. M. A. Oliveira; A. V. Gosano (holder) v. C. A. Barretto; G. A. Noronha v. J. Goncalves; F. J. Remedios v. B. T. Gosano; H. A. Barros v. H. A. Ribeiro; A. V. Remedios v. L. A. Carvalho, while W. A. Reed received a bye into the Second Round. Ladies' Singles Championship: Miss C. M. Botelho, Miss M. M. Alves and Miss A. B. Noronha received byes into the Second Round. Miss C. Osmond v. Miss C. M. Botelho; Miss A. C. Remedios v. Miss T. A. Guterres; Miss O. M. Ribeiro v. Miss A. Britto; while Miss M. G. Alves and Miss A. Roza received byes into the Second Round.

New Courts For U.S.R.C.
THE United Services Recreation Club, King's Park, are laying two new lawn tennis hard courts on their present road level area, fronting Jordan Road, thus leaving two grass courts between these and the bowling rink.

By Judge the

Boyd's Fine Positioning.
BOYD, the chief goal-scorer for the Rifles in the Second Division of the soccer League, was for several years a regular player in the senior team. Though not so fast as formerly, his positioning is very good and it is as a result of this that he scores most of his goals.

Leung In-chan's Bad Luck.
LEUNG In-chan, the South China soccer half-back, is indeed unfortunate in not being able to represent China at the Berlin Games, injured early in the season, he recovered sufficiently to play again, only to be injured in the Kowloon Cup charity game last February, with the result that he was out of soccer while the trials were taking place. Leung is a very useful half and played for the "A" team last year.

Club Play On A Sunday.
THE Club were one of the few clubs who refused to play League soccer games on Sundays, but I notice they played Lyemun last Sunday. As the result of this it is now possible to complete all League fixtures almost a week sooner than anticipated.

Goalkeepers As Centre-Forwards.
HARMSWORTH, who generally plays in goal for the East Lancs., gave a sound display at centre-forward against the Club last week. I can remember two other goal-keepers who have done well in the forward line. Durham, the Lyemun goal-keeper, was injured in an Army League game, but when at centre-forward he scored a "hat trick," while years ago W. L. Clarke, the ex-Interport custodian, injured his hand in the Final of the Lal Wah Cup series and played in the forward line. He scored three of the five goals that enabled the Civilians to win the Cup!

Aquino, To Play Next Season.
AQUINO, who played regularly for Recreio seniors in the soccer League last season, but who, owing to illness, had to stop this season, has now fully recovered and will be playing again next season.

L.B.A. Secretary A Swimmer.
C. B. Hosking, the energetic Hon. Secretary of the Hong Kong Lawn Bowls Association, has other interests besides bowls. He is very keen on swimming and, although he does not go in for it from a competitive point of view, he never misses an opportunity of going swimming.

Cricketer On Holiday.
H. Owen Hughes, the Hong Kong Cricket Club all-rounder and former Interport skipper, left the Colony last Saturday for a holiday. I understand he will not be back until the end of the year. He took part in the recent Volunteer Athletic sports and also played soccer in the Intra-Company matches.

Cricketer Turns To Tennis.
W. H. Anderton, of the Royal Naval Armament Depot, who played cricket with considerable success at Home prior to coming out here, and who has since figured in a couple of matches for Craigen-gower, intends playing a lot of tennis this summer and, with practice, should make quite a useful player.

K.I.T.C. Wanted In Macau
THE Kowloon Indians' Tennis Club have been invited by Capt. F. da Costa, the founder and President of the Macau Hockey Club, to pay a visit to the Portuguese island for a return hockey match, the Indian team having won the first encounter three months ago by 4 goals to 1. The K.I.T.C. will probably accept the invitation after they have completed their Mamak Tournament fixtures.

K.I.T.C.'s New Hockey Ground
THE Kowloon Indians' Tennis Club's new hockey ground, which was formerly a portion of the Railway Recreation Club's sports field at Chatham Road, was opened last Wednesday week when the home side beat a Punjab Regt. hockey eleven by 3 goals to 1.

BRITAIN'S WORK FOR PEACE

Air Defences Made Stronger

PRIME MINISTER'S SPEECH

London, Yesterday. The Prime Minister spoke at the annual demonstration of the Primrose League in the Albert Hall yesterday. Mr. Baldwin said he believed the position of the Crown was more firmly embedded in the hearts of people than it ever had been, being the greatest bulwark for democracy against despotism and tyranny from any quarter. The Government had begun to redeem the promise it made at the election to overhaul national defence and equipment. The greatest peril of the world to-day came from the air, and it was in the air that the Government were making the greatest efforts to strengthen the defences.

In his view strength in the air and knowledge of the defences prepared against air attacks were the surest guarantees of peace. "My whole aim as Prime Minister is peace—not out of a spirit of cowardice but because I realise what war means for Europe. I pledge myself that the Government are doing everything to procure and maintain peace—a now arduous and daily task."—British Wireless Service.

BETTER TRADE CONDITIONS

Stable Exchange Benefits

BRITISH ORDERS IN CANTON

Mr. R. W. Scott, British Trade Commissioner and Commercial Secretary for Hong Kong and South China, told the Sunday Herald yesterday that the trade situation in his two territories is much brighter than it was earlier in the year.

"It is still too early to assess the results of the currency reform," he said, "but the export trade and others of the Hong Kong businesses seem to have already benefited from the stabilisation of the exchange and I think some of the importing firms have also found, with a stable exchange, signs of gradual improvement. "Naturally at first, with the fall in the rate of the dollar, dealers were reluctant to take any new stocks of imported products at the new dollar prices, but as the old stocks are being gradually cleared away, the repercussions of a stabilised exchange will be felt generally and will react to the advantage of import trade."

"There are so many factors involved, including trade conditions elsewhere, that it is difficult to judge how trade will go in Hong Kong entirely on the basis of local conditions."

More British Successes

In this connection it is gratifying to learn that, despite very keen foreign competition, British manufacturers have been able to hold their own in South China, especially in Canton. As was announced a few days ago, a British engineering combine secured a £2,000,000 contract for the construction of a modern iron and steel works. It has since been learned that the following are amongst the other successful tenderers for big contracts in that port:

Messrs. Platt Bros. & Co., Ltd., of Oldham, have recently completed the installation of a cotton mill and woolen mill;

Messrs. James Mackie & Sons, Ltd., of Belfast, have supplied the machinery for a jute mill;

Messrs. Ruston, Hornsby, Ltd., of Lincoln, have supplied the power plants for a cotton and woolen mill and a jute mill.

The above firms are represented in Hong Kong by Messrs. Heiss, Massey & Co., Ltd., 7 Queen's Road Central, who obtained these valuable orders on behalf of their principals.

INQUEST ON DEAD PRISONER

Death From Natural Causes

An inquest was held at the Central Magistracy yesterday morning into the death of Fung Tak-long, a prisoner who died in the Victoria Gaol Hospital on Friday morning.

Mr. S. F. Balfour sat as Coroner and he was assisted by the following jurors:—Messrs. D. L. Newbiggin (foreman), A. P. da Silva and Sul Ho Min, who after hearing the evidence returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Chief Warder H. Barrett stated that the deceased was on March 23 this year sentenced to two months' hard labour and on March 30 was admitted to the Hospital. He died at 12.45 on Friday morning.

Dr. G. I. Shaw said that deceased was suffering from tuberculosis when he first saw him and that at a post mortem it was found that the cause of death was due to pulmonary tuberculosis.

EGYPTIAN ELECTIONS

WAFDIST MAJORITY IS CONSIDERED CERTAIN IN POLITICAL CIRCLES

Calcutta, Yesterday. A Wafdist majority in today's elections to the Chamber of Deputies is considered certain in political circles. Eighty-five Wafdist will be returned unopposed and with a few exceptions the Wafd are contesting all the remainder of the 147 seats.

The election will be held under the democratic constitution of 1923 by universal direct suffrage, and will be followed a fortnight later by the election of 100 members of the Senate, two-fifths of whom, however, are formally nominated by the Crown.

The constitutional position arising from the death of King Fuad is somewhat obscure. The Premier meets the National Front to-morrow to submit a recommendation to the State legal department that the Premier and Cabinet continue to exercise the constitutional powers of the throne until the new Parliament meets. It is understood that the Wafd favours the summoning the 1930 Parliament to deal with the matter. — Reuter.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Sanctions Pressure On Italy

SIGNIFICANT FIGURES

Geneva, Yesterday. The League of Nations published yesterday new statistics on the international trade with Italy, which reveal that during February the pressure of Sanctions was greatly increased. The figures for March, though not yet published, are reported to be of even greater significance.

The imports of 43 countries from Italy and the Italian colonies in February 1935 amounted to 10,395,000 gold dollars, but in February 1936 had fallen to 5,737,100 gold dollars.

Students Organisations

The Committee of representatives of the International Students Organisations met at Geneva last week, the Chairman being M. Hulecki (Poland), to examine various international questions concerning students and to be informed of the work done by the International Institute of Intellectual Co-operation, the International Labour Office and the entrance universities. The Child Welfare and Traffic in Women and Children Committees continued their meetings last week. The reports on the current sessions will be submitted to the Council of the League. — British Wireless Service.

NEW DANCE BAND IN COLONY

"Grippians" At H.K. Hotel

The dancing clientele of the Hong Kong Hotel will be interested to learn of the introduction of a particularly up-to-date band equipped with the very latest dance music.

Under the capable leadership of Fred Carpio the new band, which replaces the "Revellers," is now replete with the best element of instrumental talent obtainable in the Far East. These musicians will be known as "The Grippians," in homage to the commemoration of the tribute of the "Gripps"—a sobriquet fittingly bestowed by the Hong Kong public on the Hotel's first floor, the popular venue of sociable nightly and special week-end dinner dances and entertainments.

NEGUS APPEALS TO POPULACE

DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO STEM ADVANCE

RAS GETACHU AT HEAD OF LOYALIST BAND

London, Yesterday.

It is learned in authoritative circles in London that Great Britain has not put forward any new terms for peace in Abyssinia.

An Addis Ababa message announces that it is understood that the Emperor and the Government have decided not to surrender. Believing in the absolute justice of his cause and despite the defeats caused by overwhelming numbers and superior equipment, the Emperor has decided to continue the struggle.

It is believed that the Empress and the Royal family will shortly leave for Jerusalem, but the Emperor and Crown Prince will remain in Abyssinia, while the Government will probably move to the west.

The Emperor held a conference with the diplomatic corps yesterday afternoon to discuss the precautions necessary for the protection of foreign nationals in the event of an Italian entry into the capital.

The Emperor specially appealed to all able-bodied citizens to march to the north to-day with five days' provisions to stem the Italian advance. The leader of this forlorn hope will be Ras Getachu. — Reuter.

GOVERNMENT TENDERS

Clothing For H.K. Volunteers

DEPOSIT REQUIRED

Sealed tenders in triplicate, which should be clearly marked "Tender for Clothing H.K.V.D.C.", will be received at the Colonial Secretary's Office until noon of Monday, May 18, 1936, for the supply and delivery of clothing required by the unit, up to May 31, 1937.

Each tenderer must produce with his tender a receipt that he has deposited in the Colonial Treasury the sum of $50 as a pledge of the bona fides of his tender, which sum shall be forfeited to the Crown, should the tenderer refuse or fail to carry out the whole or any portion of the tender which may be accepted. The deposit will be returned to any tenderer whose tender is not accepted.

Form of tender and further particulars may be obtained from the Adjutant, Hong Kong Volunteer Defence Corps, Headquarters, Garden Road.

The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

New Gaol

Sealed tenders in triplicate, which should be clearly marked "Tender for Hot Water Installation to European Staff Quarters, New Gaol," will be received at the Colonial Secretary's Office until noon of Monday, May 11, 1936. The work consists of the installation of domestic hot water systems to houses and flats.

As security for the proper performance of the works under this contract the successful tenderer will be required to deposit in cash a sum of $500 with the Colonial Treasury.

No work will be permitted on Sundays.

Form of tender, specification and further particulars may be obtained at the office of the Director of Public Works.

The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

Kai Tak Aerodrome

Sealed tenders in triplicate, which should be clearly marked "Tender for Fuel and Oil Store," will be received at the Colonial Secretary's Office until noon of Thursday, May 21, 1936, for the construction of a fuel and oil store at the Kai Tak airport.

As security for the proper performance of the works under this contract the successful tenderer will be required to deposit in cash a sum of $1,000 with the Colonial Treasury.

Form of tender, specification and further particulars may be obtained at the office of the Director of Public Works.

The Government does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

EVACUATION OF CAPITAL

Arrangements At Addis Ababa

EMPEROR SUFFERS GAS INJURIES?

London, Yesterday.

Press messages from Abyssinia report a visit of the Emperor to Addis Ababa and the completion of the arrangements for the peaceful evacuation of the capital—which has been maintained as an "open town" since the beginning of the hostilities—in anticipation of the entry of the Italian troops. The Italian invasion began on October 3 last, but the advance on the capital dates from April 1 and the Italian victory in the Battle of Ashangi.

One message from Addis Ababa mentions that the Emperor's hands are bandaged for burns inflicted, it is alleged, by the enemy's poison gas. The Emperor is reported to have declared that he will re-organise his forces saying: "The last ditch does not lie between the capital and Debra Birhan." The actual entry of the Italian army into Addis Ababa was not confirmed up to a late hour yesterday evening, but the newspapers have anticipated the event and describe the organized celebrations being prepared in Rome and other Italian towns. — British Wireless Service.

CHILEAN GIRL IN FINAL

Defeats Mrs. King At Bournemouth

KAY STAMMERS WINS

Bournemouth, Yesterday.

Senorita Lizana (Chile) will meet Miss Kay Stammers (Britain), the holder, in the Final of the British Harcourts Women's tennis championship.

Yesterday the Chilean invader beat Mrs. M. R. King, conqueror of Dorothy Round, 6-4, 1-6, 6-1, while Miss Stammers beat Miss. Henriotin (France), who triumphed over Betty Nuthall, by 6-2, 6-3 in the other semi-final. In the Final of the Men's Championship Fred Perry, the holder for the past four years, will meet Bunny Austin for the second successive year. — Reuter.

GERMAN-MANCHUKUO PACT

CHINESE FOREIGN OFFICE TAKES SERIOUS VIEW OF ACTION

Nanking, Yesterday. Questioned concerning the trade agreement concluded between Germany and Manchukuo, a Foreign Office spokesman recalled that on April 29 the German Charge d'Affaires called at the Foreign Office and informed the Chinese Government of the impending conclusion of the arrangements, which the German diplomat pointed out were purely of a commercial character and devoid of political significance.

The Foreign Office, which is awaiting the text of the arrangements, is taking a serious view of the matter, he added, and the appropriate steps would be decided after the text had been received and examined.

DETAILS OF PACT

Tokyo: Under the German-Manchukuo trade agreement the German foreign exchange administration, it is reported, permits the importation of Manchukuo products to the amount of 100,000,000 yen during the 12 months beginning on June 1, Germany paying three-quarters in foreign exchange and one-quarter in Reichsmarks. Manchukuo agrees to utilise the said Reichsmarks for the payment for German products exported to Manchukuo.

Subject to certain stipulations, a certain proportion of Japan's trade balance with Germany will be made available for additional German imports from Manchukuo. Negotiations for the renewal of the trade agreement must be opened not later than April 1, 1937. — Reuter.

MUSLIM PRIEST IN HONG KONG

Eminent Theologian's Visit

SERIES OF LECTURES TO BE GIVEN

His Holiness Maulana Muhammad Abdul Aleem Siddiqui, an eminent Muslim theologian of world-wide fame, well versed in Western and Eastern philosophy and the sciences, arrived here from Saigon by the s.s. Chenonceaux yesterday and was received by a number of prominent members of the Muslim community.

His Holiness intends to stay here for a week, and will be glad to receive anyone who wants to enlighten himself on any philosophical or moral subject, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

His Holiness, who is staying in the Guest House of the Mosque at No. 80, Shelley Street, Hong Kong, will probably be delivering a number of lectures in English and Urdu during his short stay; here, particulars of which will be made known in due course. Thereafter he intends to proceed to Japan.

SPEEDING UP RAILWAYS

New London-Glasgow Service To-morrow

London, Yesterday.

The London, Midland and Scottish Railway inaugurates on Monday the fastest service from London to Glasgow in railway history. The "Midday Scot" will leave Euston at 2 o'clock and reach Glasgow 7 hours 35 minutes later, completing the 401 miles at an overall average speed of 52.9 miles an hour.

Some 747 other L.M.S. services are being accelerated as part of the summer programme starting next week. — British Wireless Service.

BOXER SCHOLARSHIP GAINED

H.K.U. Graduate's Success

Information has been received that Miss Lai Po Kan, a graduate of Hong Kong University, has gained the scholarship awarded by the Board of Trustees for the Administration of the Boxer Indemnity Funds.

The Scholarship is for three years at a British University and its value is:— Outfit, £20;
Passage, £80 each way;
Tuition, lodging, etc., £24 a month, with an extra allowance of £30 a year for students entering Oxford or Cambridge.

Miss Lai is an Assistant Mistress of Belilos Girls' School. Only one scholarship was available for the group of subjects offered by Miss Lai, and it was confined to graduates from the Literature and Language Departments of a University or College.

The following telegrams are being sent to the Government Radio Office:—Yeechisan, Sanfathou, Salwanho, from Menado, 8,838, from Nandlab; Ho Kienheng, care of Waky, 37, Jervois Street, from Cholon; and 4,046, from Swatow.

Weather During April

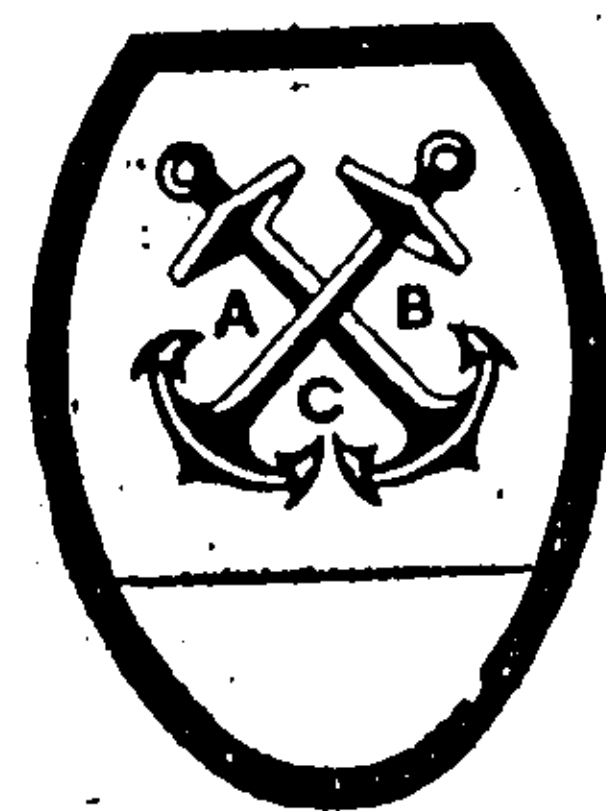

The weather during April was unusually variable. Temperature was below normal from the 1st to the 6th, nearly 8 degrees above normal from the 7th to the 9th, 5 degrees below normal from the 10th to the 17th, and remained slightly above normal until the end of the month. The mean relative humidity was 87 per cent, 2 per cent above normal.

The month was generally dull and cloudy, except on the 1st, 3rd, 8th and from the 17th to the 22nd. Bright sunshine was 17 hours less than normal and cloudiness 8 per cent greater. Rain fell on 9 days, amounting to 4.60 inches, of which 1.85 ins. fell on the 25th and 2.09 ins. in a thunderstorm on the 30th. Fog occurred on 10 days, and was the cause of considerable inconvenience to shipping on the 9th.

Wind velocity was below normal for most of the month. The highest gust velocity recorded was 42 m.p.h. at 0h. 40m. on the 24th.

OBITUARY

Death Of Well-Known Poet

A. E. HOUSMAN

London, Yesterday.

The death has occurred of A. E. Housman, the poet and Professor of Latin at Cambridge University. —Reuter's Bulletin Service.

Housman's best-known work was "A Shropshire Lad," published in 1896, but in addition he published one or two books of poems and many editions of the Latin classics. He was an honorary Fellow of St. John's, Oxford, and had been a Fellow of Trinity since 1911.

He was born on March 26, 1859, and was educated at Bromsgrove School and St. John's, Oxford. He was a Higher Division Clerk in H. M.'s Patent Office from 1882 to 1892, and Professor of Latin at University College, London, from 1892 to 1911. He contributed a stream of papers and articles to the Journal of Philology, the Classical Review and the Classical Quarterly.

WAR VETERAN PASSES

London, Yesterday.—General Sir Philip Nash, who was responsible in several capacities at different times for transport arrangements of British forces in France during the Great War and who also served at the Ministry of Munitions, died in London yesterday at the age of 60. —British Wireless Service.

KING VISITS WINDSOR FIRST OFFICIAL FUNCTION

London, Yesterday. His Majesty the King attended his first official function at Windsor Castle yesterday when he received in audience the Dean and Canons of St. George's Chapel. Addressing the church dignitaries he said that he had the deepest affection for St. George's Chapel owing to its connection with the Royal family.

The King also saw the Mayor and members of the Corporation of Windsor, to whom he said that he welcomed them as neighbours and friends. —Reuter's Bulletin Service.

ALLEGED FORGERY OF BANKNOTE

So Yung, aged 32, was yesterday charged before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy with uttering a forged $10 banknote of the Chartered Bank. Mr. R. C. H. Lim, instructed by Mr. C. A. S. Russ, was for the defendant, and the case was adjourned till Tuesday, bail of $100 being allowed.

Local Share Market

Messrs. Harriman's Weekly Report

Messrs. G. A. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon yesterday.
 states:—

The market was again very active during the period under review except for the usual lull on Settlement Day which passed off very satisfactorily on Tuesday last. Rates were well maintained and in some cases improved slightly but there was a slight re-action in Manila Gold Mining stocks after recent substantial advances.

Investment counters continued in steady demand, Hong Kong Trams improved again with sales recorded at $11. Hong Kong Electric were taken off the market in large quantities at $50 1/2 to $51 1/2 and Telephones (old) at $25.20/40.

Star Forries firmed up to a buying rate of $38 1/2. Hong Kong Lands eased off again with shares changing hands at $30. Dairy Farms were quiet and were obtainable at $20. Minor issues held their own well with Hotels done at $4.80/85 and China Lights (old) at $10-70/80. Cements continued to attract attention having been put through in quantity at $10.25 during the week, but closed with sellers at $10 in spite of increasing forward enquiries. Ropes met with enquiries at $4.40 cash and $4.50 June with sellers holding off for much more. Watsons were in good demand at $2.85, after having been done at $2.80. Philippine mining stocks were active at declining prices with rather wide fluctuations due chiefly to profit taking before the holidays in Manila. Antamoks were done up to $2.42 closing easier with buyers at $2.35. Demonstrations fluctuated between 70 cents and 73 cents. United Paracales opened with sales at 76 cts, but dropped to 73 1/2 cts. during the week, closing however with strong enquires at 74 cents. Gold Rivers which are more or less neglected in the local market declined to 4 1/2 cts. Sterling issues were very steady. Hong Kong Banks changing hands at $16 1/2 and Unions at $510/15. The tone of the market at the close is firm.

Business during the week has been done at the following prices:
 H.K. Banks $16 1/2.
 Unions $510/15.
 Demonstrations 70/73 cts.
 United Paracale 70/76 cts.
 Hotels $4.80/4.85.
 H.K. Trams $11.—

LORD WILLINGTON AT GIBRALTAR

Courtesy Call By Governor

Gibraltar, Yesterday.
 Lord and Lady Willington arrived yesterday morning aboard the P. and O. liner Strathmore.
 Sir Charles Harington, Governor of Gibraltar, paid a call aboard the ship and had lunch with Lord and Lady Willington, who are continuing their journey all the way by sea.

Lord Willington was suffering from a slight chill and consequently did not go ashore. Reu-

FAR EAST HEALTH BULLETIN

Calcutta reported 318 cases of smallpox and 168 of cholera during the week ended April 25.
 Shanghai had 9 cases of smallpox and Bangkok 11 cases of cholera.
 Saigon reported one death from plague.

Miss Naomi Joseph, above, left the Colony last week for a short holiday in Shanghai and will not be returning to the Colony for a couple of weeks.

THE many friends of Mrs. Hoover, wife of Mr. Charles L. Hoover, Consul-General for the United States in Hong Kong, will be glad to learn that she is now fully recovered from her recent indisposition.

The many friends in the Colony of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gelling will be interested to learn that their daughter, Muriel, who left the Colony some time ago in company with some friends, has arrived safely in England. She will be going to a boarding school in Barrow-in-Furness, Lancashire.

Dr. G. A. V. Griffiths, who was formerly "second in command" at the Kowloon Hospital, has been appointed Medical Officer in charge, the post formerly held by Dr. J. T. Smalley, who went away on Home leave yesterday. In view of the fact that there had been many rumours to the contrary, we are glad to state that Dr. Smalley will definitely be returning to the Colony at the expiration of his holiday.

His 43rd Birthday

Mr. V. F. d'Azevedo, a very popular member of the Canadian Pacific Railway staff, will celebrate the 43rd anniversary of his birthday next Friday. He is in the Accounts Department of the C.P.R., and it is understood that he will celebrate the anniversary in a manner befitting the occasion.

MR. H. Siedler, the leader of the German choir in Hong Kong and who is also a very popular member of the "Y," is due to go on leave next week. He will first visit Manila, after which he intends spending some time in India where, it is believed, he will do a lot of flying, finally proceeding to Germany. He will be away for altogether six months.

Mr. W. Keith Robinson, of the legal firm of Messrs. T'ao and Hodgson, is at present away on a holiday in Japan. He will not be returning to the Colony for at least another month.

Mrs. Harrison, above, wife of the former Governor-General of the Philippines, spent a short holiday in the Colony last week as the guest of Mr. Charles L. Hoover, Consul-General for the United States, and Mrs. Hoover at their residence, "On Lee," at Pokfulam.

PERSONALIA

A recent portrait of Miss Dorothy Witchell, who, like her sister Miss May Witchell, is on the office staff at Hong Kong University. (King's Studio).

THE Hon. Dr. S. W. Ts'o, the well-known local solicitor and Senior Chinese member on the Legislative Council, intends to spend a short holiday in Shanghai and Japan very shortly. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Ts'o on the trip.

Mr. R. K. Stott, a member of the floating staff of Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, who has been away in Shanghai for the last two years, has returned to the Colony to make it his headquarters. Mrs. Stott, who was formerly Miss Patricia Hynes, is also back here, and they have taken a flat in Gap Road, Happy Valley.

We understand that Mr. Eldon Potter, K.C., accompanied by Mrs. Potter and their two daughters, the Misses Pamela and Patricia Potter, will be going away for a holiday in the near future. They will be away for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Alvares celebrated the completion of the first month of their married life last Wednesday with a special Nuptial Mass. Mr. Alvares is connected with the Central Radio Company of Kowloon.

Mr. Frank Neill and his bride, the former Miss Erna Eckert, photographed after their marriage at the Registry last week. Mrs. Slater, on the extreme left, and Mr. E. F. Selk, on the extreme right, witnessed the ceremony. (King's Studio).

MR. and Mrs. L. A. da Silva, two popular members of the local Portuguese community, who have only recently returned to the Colony from Europe, gave a very successful tea party last Saturday to a large number of friends at their home in Austin Avenue, Kowloon, the function being in the nature of a "house-warming."

One of the most popular members of the European Y.M.C.A., Mr. F. Edwards, who is in the employ of the Union Waterboat Co., will be leaving the Colony for a holiday some time next week. It is understood that he will spend his holiday in Australia.

Mr. G. Fowler, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, has given up his house in Somerset Road and has taken up residence at No. 3 Kent Road, Kowloon Tong. He moved to his new address on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Carvalho gave a very successful party last Tuesday when their little daughter, Raquel, was exactly a month old. A number of friends attended and the most important personage was little Raquel.

Mr. E. M. Gran, who is one of the partners in the well-known architect firm of Messrs. Davies, Brooks and Gran, is at present on a business visit to the Colony and will remain here for some time.

MR. J. F. Macgregor, of Messrs. Caldwell, Macgregor and Co., Ltd., and a very popular owner-member of the Hong Kong Jockey Club, will be proceeding on home leave within the next few days. He will be joining Mrs. Macgregor in England and will be away for about six months.

The Rev. H. W. Baines, Chaplain in charge of St. John's Cathedral, who had been away for a 10-days' holiday in Pakhoi, returned to the Colony last Tuesday.

Mr. J. E. Perkins, of Paramount Films, is at present in the Colony and is spending some time, it is understood, in the local office. He has made the Hong Kong Hotel his headquarters.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Allen, who are on a short holiday in the East, arrived in the Colony last Friday from England and have registered at the Hong Kong Hotel. They will remain in the Colony for some time.

Warder McTavish, of the Prison Department, is due to proceed on Home leave in the very near future. He will be away for about nine months and will, it is understood, be spending his holidays in England and Scotland.

One Who Will Be Missed

Mr. D. L. King, of the China Provident, Loan and Mortgage Co., Ltd., is, we understand, shortly leaving the Colony, and the chances are that he will not be coming back. He will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends, especially those connected with the Police Reserve, of which he is the D.S.P. (R).

Dr. R. A. McCance, assistant physician in charge of Biochemical Research at King's College Hospital, London, who was the author of an extremely interesting article in a recent issue of the Lancet, is a brother of Mrs. Westlake, wife of Mr. H. F. Westlake of the Bailiff's Office, Supreme Court.

A happy beach snapshot, taken at Repulse Bay, of Roy, 5½ years old, and Helen, aged 1½, the bonny children of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bendall. (King's Studio).

The wedding took place last Wednesday at St. John's Cathedral of Mr. H. C. Hopkins of the Chartered Bank, and Miss Phyllis Weightman. Our photograph shows the bride arriving at the Church. ("Herald" photo).

Mr. L. D. Fernandes, of Hong Kong, and Miss Rosalind Helen Lee, of Victoria, B.C., photographed after their marriage at St. Teresa's Church, Kowloon Tong.

HIS many friends will be glad to learn that Mr. Choa Po-sien, comprador of the Banque de L'Indo-Chine, who has been ill for some time, is now making a speedy recovery. Mr. Choa is also on the Board of Directors of the Hong Kong Tramways Ltd.

Mr. Li Shu-kul, who is the chief manager of the Hong Nin Bank, and one of the most prominent members of the Chinese business community, has been made chairman of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. He has held the post of vice-chairman for many years.

Dr. L. D. Pringle returned to the Colony from Home leave, by the s.s. Sarpedon last week and has, we understand, been appointed to the Kowloon Hospital as second medical officer in charge. He has been away from the Colony for about nine months.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Ryan, who have been away from the Colony for the past nine months, are due to return here in the near future. They have been spending a holiday in England. Mr. Ryan is a member of the staff of the Prison Department.

An interesting personality in the Colony at the moment is Mr. J. R. Henson, who has come from South Africa to spend a short holiday in the Colony. He is staying at the Hong Kong Hotel.

LITTLE NOTES of Great Importance

With fashion-mongers Paris is an old tradition. But many things have changed since the war and to-day, if you want to know whether you have to go Chinese or Martinière this season, you dig into "Vogue," or "Harpers' Bazaar." At MAIZEE'S, known also as the American Shop, you will see all the smart fashions you have admired in those fashionable magazines. Just now they are displaying the last word in beach wear and bathing suits—supple as your own skin; they are positively lovely! Being a smart shop, of course, they have the Helena Rubinstein beauty preparations.

It's an individual season. There is war on monstony. You can choose any one of the new influences in summer hats at MAYO'S SHOPE. They have them all in cool straws and fabrics. And if your husband talks about depression, well, then just take your last year's hats to Mayo's and you will get them back transformed into the latest creations. They do bleaching, dyeing and cleaning. And if, while trying on a hat, you develop a fancy to some of the nice dresses they have there, never mind the depression—they are priced very reasonably. (Stop Press. They are just unpacked new Summer hats).

The bathing season is here. . . . And on Monday morning you appear disguised as roast turkey. You feel that, after all, nudism might not be such a bad thing—clothes are such a burden on your aching body. But why all the suffering? Haven't you heard of NOXZEMA? It helps sunburn and has a million other uses. For burns and bruises, for chafing and baby rash, for burning, aching feet, for pimples, perspiration odour, etc., etc. All leading Dispensaries sell it. Sole distributors: United Traders, Pedder Bldg.

I read a little booklet entitled "The Quest of the Beautiful" by Elizabeth Arden. She says that the desire to be beautiful is stronger than the desire to be modest or comfortable. Well, Elizabeth Arden ought to know, but isn't it natural? How can a woman be modest about her beauty and comfortable without it? LANE, CRAWFORD, LTD. are that comfort to you. They sell Elizabeth Arden beauty preparations. And don't be modest; just ask Mrs. Moodie Heddle, who will give you advice on your problems.

That awful moment when you gaze at your face on the first hot day and nearly pass out with shock! You're not like Marlene Dietrich or Kay Francis really, at all—more like last year's hat, all faded and gone at the edges. Some women cry on their husbands' shoulders. Others rush out and spend fortunes on new clothes, but the wise woman helps herself to beauty from the same source as all the Hollywood beauties do. They buy MIMI cosmetics. There are 54 different items—a solution to every one of your beauty problems. At Wing On Co., Ltd., Hariram Silk Store, Kowloon, and Miss Naylor, St. George's Building.

I peeped in at PAUL RENNET'S. Found the whole staff busily unpacking. They were all excited, and with reason too. Oh boy! those linen beach dresses and the newest bathing suits—they are positively front-page stuff! They are first editions, but the last word! And as women always must have the last word (at least my husband says so) I expect I shall meet you all Paul Renne's to-morrow! By the way, they have some stunning georgette and organdie frocks too. The very things for Lido dances.

Was not the weather awful last week? Heat and rain, then suddenly cooling down. This is the time when you have to watch yourself. But if my warning is too late, and you are already in the doctor's hands, send his prescriptions to well-qualified pharmacists such as the GRAND DISPENSARY. They do it accurately because they are aware of the responsibility which rests on them. Their stock is complete, and prices are not higher than what you would pay for inferior medicines.

"THE ANDRIAN"

Interesting Issue
For May

ARTICLE ON ITALY

The May number of The Andrian, the organ of St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, just to hand, contains a fine article on Italy contributed by a lady member of the congregation who recently visited the country on her way to England. It is illustrated by photographs of some of the principal architectural beauties of the ancient ruins in Rome, Naples and Pompeii. It contains a great deal of interesting information, and includes a delightful poem "On Old Rome" written by Philip Ayres (1638-1712).

The "Notes and Views" of the month deal with many matters of interest to the congregation of the church. There is also included a severe, but just, indictment of the war in Abyssinia, which is spoken of as "the greatest crime of the 20th century." Notes on the Methodist Church, Shamsui, Choir Notes, the Children's Section and other regular features complete an unusually interesting number of the magazine.

ROYAL YACHT CLUB

The bowling section did not finish at the top of the League, but under the care of Messrs. Bentley and Maughan they had a season of enjoyable games and have collected many new members for the season which has just commenced.

Before leaving the activities of the Club I would like to remind all members that yacht racing is conducted under certain rules laid down by the Yacht Racing Association, and it is up to us all to make ourselves familiar with those applying particularly to the racing so that we can play our game fairly for all competitors.

Thanks Expressed

"The thanks of the club are due to Messrs. Butterfield and Swire, Jardine's, Way Foong, The Dock Company and the Water Police for the help they have afforded in connection with the Traversa Trophy and rowing regatta, by the loan of launches and the patrolling of courses, etc.

"I should like to add my own particular thanks to our club secretaries, Messrs. K. S. Robertson & De Ville and to our sailing secretary, Major Dixon, for carrying out their duties with such cheerful countenances and providing us with such smooth working arrangements throughout the season.

"Our thanks too are due to Mrs. Dixon for consenting to deputise for Mrs. Sedgwick at very short notice.

"I will now ask Mrs. Dixon to present the prizes."

The upper picture shows the damage done to a new and solidly-built school at Cordale, Georgia, by the tornado which took two-acre lives and left thousands homeless last month. Below, another brick building, completely demolished. (Inset) rescue workers are shown searching the ruins in a home where two died. The death list in Cordale was nearly half of the whole storm toll, and over 1,000 persons were left homeless there.

The TVA town of Tupelo, Mississippi, lay desolated by the tornado which swept across four Southern States of America last month.

On the heels of the storm which wrought this mad havoc and took two-acre lives came a more tragic and fatal storm as winds raked four States of America, leaving hundreds dead and thousands homeless last month. This inferno was the work of the recent tornado at Greensboro, N.C.

Death and destruction followed in the wake of a cyclone which raked Cordale, Georgia, marked with cross, last month. Buildings were demolished and roofs torn off by the fury of the wind.

"Bisley" Meeting:—Mr. Cory, D.R.C.—(24).

The weather was ideal and a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon was spent, sports meetings for Seniors and Juniors being held, while Messrs. J. C. M. Grenham, J. J. Ferguson, W. C. Simpson and D. A. Nooy caused great fun after the sports. A cinema show by Mr. Phillips and community singing brought the function to a fitting conclusion.

Among the parents present were Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Chester Woods and Mrs. Cocking.

This unusual picture shows a car buried in the twisted mass of trees on a highway near Tupelo, Mississippi, as rescue workers dig into the debris for a storm victim of last month's disaster. The death toll at Tupelo reached 150 persons.

SUNDAY SCHOOL FESTIVAL

200 Kiddies Entertained
At St. Andrew's

PLEASANT AFTERNOON

There was a very pleasant function in the St. Andrew's Vicarage grounds yesterday, when the 17th annual Sunday School Festival attracted nearly 200 kiddies and many parents.

The weather was ideal and a thoroughly enjoyable afternoon was spent, sports meetings for Seniors and Juniors being held, while Messrs. J. C. M. Grenham, J. J. Ferguson, W. C. Simpson and D. A. Nooy caused great fun after the sports. A cinema show by Mr. Phillips and community singing brought the function to a fitting conclusion.

Among the parents present were Mr. and Mrs. Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Chester Woods and Mrs. Cocking.

SAFETY FOR AIRMEN

Knowledge Of Cows Helps Sometimes

A study of the psychology of cows has been added to the curriculum of a London school of flying. Cows always stand with their tails to the wind. Knowledge of this fact has saved the lives of airmen when making forced landings because of engine failure.

R.E.O.C.A. DANCE

The Royal Engineers Old Comrades' Association held their fortnightly dance at the China Fleet Club last night when the dance orchestra of the 2nd Lancashire Regiment was in attendance. Over 150 couples attended and during the evening a box of chocolates was raffled.

The Association will hold a whist drive at Wellington Barracks tomorrow evening commencing at 8.30 p.m. sharp.

ST. JOHN BRIGADE FLAG-DAY

Enthusiastic Workers Out Early

GRATIFYING RESULT

The flag sellers for the St. John Ambulance Association put in a great deal of enthusiastic work yesterday morning, most of them being up with the lark, determined that no one should escape their persuasive efforts on behalf of the good cause.

Unfortunately in many of the districts, Kowloon especially, the demand was greater than the supply, although some 20,000 flags and flowers had been distributed. Many of the sellers had sold out before 8 a.m., while other districts had more than required, but the surplus was not returned until too late for redistribution.

The returns from Kowloon were not available at the time of going to press, but Hong Kong collections totalled approximately $3,000.

The largest individual amount collected was $109.80 by Miss Helen Lo; the second largest was $77.05, per Miss Isobel Woo, and the third place was taken by Mrs. Mitchell with $59.51.

The Helpers

Appended is a complete list of the Convoys and flag-sellers for Hong Kong and Kowloon:—

"PUBLIC ENEMY NO. 1"

Desperado Captured
In America

New Orleans, Yesterday.

The police have captured Alvin Karpis, public Enemy No. 1, as a climax to a nation-wide search for several months. Twice previously he had shot his way out of police traps, but this time he surrendered weakly. — Reuter.

What is the USE of ADVERTISING

IF

the claims made are proved a fallacy? Would you buy that article a second time? While advertising is a powerful force in educating as to the uses, merits or money saving advantages of a product, the people are the judges when they make their first purchase. "Delivering the goods" is what they demand, and the scrap heap of failures is piled with goods that could not stand the test of public judgment. 'ASPRO' messages are carefully planned to prove what 'ASPRO' can do to alleviate pain and suffering, and the reason of its success throughout the civilised world is simple, because it fulfils its purity is its safety, and its quick action the healing service humanity appreciates. 'ASPRO' conforms to the standard of purity laid down by the British Pharmacopoeia (the guiding authority of the Medical Profession), and the 15 uses enumerated below make it an invaluable quick first-aid emergency in every home.

'ASPRO'

GIVES QUICK AND SAFE RESULTS.

Great Relief After 14 Years' Suffering

2 Thomas St., Lewisham, N.S.W.
28/2/33.
Dear Sirs,
I have been suffering from Rheumatism and Arthritis for 12 to 14 years. I have taken a course of your 'ASPRO' Tablets—three after each meal—and often, when in pain, have taken an extra dose before going to bed.
I obtained very great relief from this treatment; in fact, I do not know how I could have continued to move about without 'ASPRO'. The pain has gradually improved, and now I find I need to take 'ASPRO' only occasionally. I can confidently recommend 'ASPRO' to all sufferers from rheumatism.

YANG AND YIN, KEY TO ALL MYSTERIES THE MALE AND FEMALE FORCES OF NATURE PHILOSOPHY OF DUALISM IN CHINESE THOUGHT

(By PHYLLIS JUBY)

THE Yang and the Yin, male and female principles or forces in nature, are the key to all the mysteries. They represent not only the sexual distinction, but the operations of Heaven and Earth, the light and the shade, end and beginning, motion and rest, life and death, cause and effect, good and evil, left and right, man and things, knowing and acting, opposite classes in all physical elements and throughout the cosmic order. The world is governed by these two principles and all things belong either to the one or the other. Man himself exists and lives only because he is endowed with Yang and Yin, and there is no part of his person which is not either Yang or Yin.

The ancient rules show how great was the belief that the harmony of the world was brought about by these two forces and that their rhythm presided over all things. There is the rule of division of labour. The two sexes, preserving their independence, divided the work of the year between them. The work of the men, the main work, was done in the fields in the fine season, spreading over the whole country. It was done in broad daylight on sunny days, so the summer and the men's work and the expansion were regarded as part of the Yang. The women worked in the house or in the shade of the orchard, in the gloomy winter when activity is least intense and everyone lives in his own dwelling, withdrawn and inert. And this was the part of the Yin. They succeeded one another alternately, just as in the festivals the choirs of men and the choirs of women answered each other in turn. The men stood on the sunny slopes, to the South and in the light; while the women were in the shade to the North, close to the cold, close to what the Chinese felt to be the secret and supernatural.

And then in later times these primitive notions of Yang and Yin supplied the intellectual element in the philosophy of dualism constructed by Chinese thinkers. The seeds of the philosophy are in the "Book of Changes," most enigmatical and obscure of Chinese books. Change was believed to be a predominant characteristic of all activities. And owing to the interaction of the two opposite forces, Yang and Yin, a constant transformation in the universe takes place. Confucius struggled hard to give a true estimate of the "Book of Changes." He found that the reason of the universe was obtained through change and selection and that "when the reason of the universe is obtained, the perfect abides in its midst."

Again he says: "The strong and the weak are the gates of change. The strong is the male gender and the weak is the female gender. When male and female are united in their virtues, rigid and tender are formulated, in which are embodied all the phenomena of Heaven and Earth, and through which are circulated the powers of the spirits bright."

The supreme Ruler, Lord of Heaven, is associated with the active Yang principle, and for his consort the agricultural Chinese invented the Earth Mother, the personification of feminine fecundity. Two great sacrifices were made, one to Heaven and one to Earth. The Earth-offering was buried in the ground, but that to Heaven rose upwards in smoke.

The male sun and the female moon were worshipped too: offerings to the sun were made on the morning of the spring equinox, and to the moon in the evening of the autumn equinox. The altar of the sun was raised to signify the Yang principle, and that of the moon was hollowed out to signify the Yin.

Even in the making of objects in metal—a sacred task in ancient days—there was this fundamental dualistic outlook; the metals, as everything else, were male and female. By the union of male and female were obtained objects with prestige, and the power of these objects was transferred to men. The bellows were worked by virgin boys and girls of equal number, three hundred boys and three hundred girls, as three hundred is a supreme total. They gave their breath (i.e. their soul) as that the fusion be made. And together they threw water on the melted metal in order to name it. Where a bubble appeared the metal was male; it was female when a hole appeared. Thus the metal knew where to take it or how to combine the antagonistic elements to give a perfect object. The principle of perfection was in the collaboration of the sexes, for each had given its vital force.

The fusion and alloy could be obtained without the help of virgin boys and girls if the master melder and his wife gave themselves to the production of the work. They had only to throw themselves in the furnace and at once the flow of metal would begin.

And because in the words of Confucius, the Sage of Sages; "the strong is the male gender and the weak is the female gender," because the Yang and the Yin are naturally opposed, man in China has moulded woman into a creature frail and delicate, opposed to all that is male; a creature unreal, mysterious, almost supernatural. He has likened her to the lightest, the Yang and the Yin, of the most fanciful things in nature; things unsuited to the strength of sunlight, but dwelling in the secret of the moonlight; things of all Chinese civilisation.

HONG KONG AND THE NEW TERRITORIES. — No. 205.

IT is true that the Silly Season—for some people—has arrived with the advent of the warmer weather, but those sea-monster stories should be told before dinner, not after. I was told a few days ago what might well prove to be the explanation of the recent scare. At this season of the year porpoises (or rather dolphins, in tropical waters) mate, and it is the practice of the male to pursue his desired female, following her closely through the water. He humps when she humps and he dumps when she dumps, if you gather my meaning. Sometimes there is only one female and two attendant males and so we get a procession of hump, hump, hump, and dump, dump, dump. Lol! A sea monster! When I noticed in one of the reports that one gentleman, or lady, said that he, or she, heard, or saw, the creature or creatures, blow—sorry I am a bit vague as to details, but I do remember the word blow—then no further doubt was left in my mind as to the mammalian origin of the serpent. An antediluvian, neodelugian, pre-mammalian monster would have used a more primitive expletive.

Flowering Trees
The most noticeable feature of the countryside in early May is the wealth of flowering trees and climbers that are making their presence obvious. Some are very fragrant; others produce blossoms in such abundance that they cannot be missed, and others have flowers which arrest the attention by their unusual shape.

A lovely evergreen tree now in flower and widespread on the Peak is Reevesia thyrsoides. Each small branch is terminated by a cluster of white, sweet-smelling attractive flowers, each with an elongated staminal tube terminated by a compact anther head, making identification easy.

Another with pendant catkin-like inflorescences is Homalium fagifolium. The word fagifolium is derived from the word fagus, Latin for the beech tree; the leaf when young resembles somewhat the leaf of a beech.

dreamlike substance, strange apparitions. Her face he makes a mask, lined and painted and formed to his abstract ideal of femininity. She becomes artificial and strange as the long-drawn note of the Chinese flute. She must not be active, she must never move in any way but that which pleases him, and so he crushes her feet to tiny points, that her only movement be one of a stumbling, voluptuous grace. He tests her light step, making her tread on a quilt spread with fine incense powder and leave no footprint. He clothes her in feminine splendour of silks and showers of quivering jewels. He makes of her a symbol. And he, male and dominant, gazes, and in his gaze possesses.

To change the relation of man and woman in China is to effect a revolution, changing ideas of life that go back to the birth of Taoism. The change at present is probably more apparent than real, for the Chinese still, as Confucius, say: "I am one who is fond of antiquity." And then the ideas of the Yang and the Yin, of the strong and the weak, positive and negative, are part of Chinese work and family life, part of the base of all Chinese civilisation.

POLITICAL CONFLICT IN EGYPT SUBJECT OF COUNCIL OF REGENCY

CONSTITUTIONAL POINTS IN DISPUTE

"SUNDAY HERALD" SPECIAL

Cairo, Yesterday.

The conflict which has broken out between the Premier, Ali Maher Pasha, and the Nationalist Wafd Party concerning the question of the Government's constitutional rights overshadows the interest in the Parliamentary elections, which began to-day and are considered certain to result in an overwhelming Wafd victory.

The conflict in question arose on the subject of the Council of Regency, whose members had been designated by the late King Fuad, who wrote their names on a paper which was enclosed in a sealed envelope. Under the terms of the Egyptian constitution the envelope must be opened 10 days after the King's death in the presence of Parliament, or if no Parliament should exist, in the presence of the previous Parliament.

The Premier takes the view that the previous Parliament, which was dissolved last year, cannot be summoned, since the constitution existing at that time has meanwhile been abrogated. Hence the Government proposes to wait until a new Parliament meets, in about a month's time, before opening the envelope, and to exert during the interval the constitutional privileges appertaining to the Crown, which include the right to nominate two-fifths of the members of the new Senate.

The Wafd, on the other hand, demands that the Parliament which was dissolved in 1930 be convoked in order to elect the Council of Regency, to which the Premier should then tender his resignation so as to make way for the Wafd leader, Nahas Pasha. The Wafd threatens that if its demands be refused by the Government it will itself summon the Parliament in question. — Trans-Ocean Service.

DAVIS CUP France Eliminates China BRIGHT TENNIS

Paris, Yesterday.
France entered the Second Round of the 1936 Davis Cup series to-day when she won the doubles match against China, Jean Borotra, the "Bouncing Basque," and Marcel Bernard beating Kho Sin-kie and Gordon Lum 6-1, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Hon. Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese Ambassador at Paris, and Mrs. Koo were again present when the Chinese Davis Cup players were opposed to France.

The doubles encounter was pleasing from the spectators' point of view, Gordon Lum offering the most resistance, serving strongly and imparting a treacherous spin to his returns.

Kho Sin-kie's overhead work was weak, but he supported Lum well in low volleying duels and played faultless tennis from the base-line, scoring many winners.

There were many smart rallies, and the Chinese improved as the encounter progressed, while the French pair were frequently unsteady. — Reuter.

France will now meet the winners of the First Round encounter between Monaco and Holland.

EARLIER RESULTS

Singles
Christian Bousseau (France) beat Kho Sin-kie (China) 6-0, 6-0, 6-1.

P. Destremieu (France) beat Guy Cheng (China) 6-1, 6-3, 6-8, 6-3.

HOLLAND LEADS

Davis Cup Tie At Monte Carlo

"SUNDAY HERALD" SPECIAL

Monte Carlo, Yesterday.

Holland is leading Monaco by 2 matches to nil as the result of the first day's play in their Davis Cup tie.

Landon (Monaco), put up a stiff fight before he succumbed to Hugen (Holland) by 6-8, 5-7, 8-2.

G-1, while the Dutch champion, Hans Timmer, had little trouble in disposing of Gallape by 8-3, 4-2.

6-1. — Trans-Ocean Service.

NEW DUTIES ON YARNS

Enormous Increases In Egypt

Cairo, Yesterday.

Under a decree signed by King Fuad on April 28 a few hours before his death the duties on coloured rayon yarns will be increased 600 per cent., on uncoloured yarn 550 per cent., and on rayon articles 100 per cent. The new duties on wollen textiles range from 70 to 150 millimes per kilo-net, according to weight. — Reuter.

C.C.C. WHIST DRIVE

The fortnightly whist drive of the Craigengower Cricket Club was held last night. Mrs. B. E. Smith and Mrs. Cook won the ladies' prizes, while Messrs. Leader and Marks won the gentlemen's prizes. The booby prizes went to Mrs. Hall and Mr. Rhoderick.

Kay Stammers Wins

Bournemouth, Yesterday. — Miss Kay Stammers, above, retained her British Women's Hard Courts tennis title to-day when she defeated Benarita Anita Llanas, of Chile, by 7-5, 7-5. — Reuter.
